YOU CAN SURVIVE

Know What To Do In Case Of Attack

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Prof. Willard F. Libby, Nobel Prize winner and one of America's best known authorities on fallout and radiation, is the author of a series of articles on how you can survive an atomic attack, starting in today's Independent-Journal. Libby is a top researcher at the University of California at Los Angeles.

He was a designer of the atomic bomb, and was a member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.)

(First in a series)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

For $30, I built a fallout shelter in my backyard. It gives my family 100 times more chance of surviving nuclear fallout than if I had done nothing.

This poor man's shelter is just one example of many practical things you can do — and especially know about — for survival insurance if all efforts to keep peace fail.

The key to survival is understanding the hazards, the effects of nuclear weapons, so you can make intelligent decisions and take intelligent action.

The smart man has 100 times more chance than the man who doesn't know what to expect or to do.

Ignorance can kill, just as it kills the little child who runs in front of an automobile. You can save your life easily. You can easily lose it.

Do you know, for example, that:

Even if a bomb exploded nearby, you would have an hour or longer to take or prepare shelter before the fallout arrived?

Forty-eight hours after radioactive fallout comes down, it is only 1 per cent as "hot" or dangerous as when it fell?

Fallout is one of the biggest potential killers in nuclear weapons?

By this fallout, I don't mean the relatively small amount coming from high air bursts of nuclear tests. I mean the thousands of tons of radioactive dirt and materials vaporized and made radioactive by a great burst near or on the ground.

This fallout behaves like ordinary dust, except it is "hot." There are ways to clean up, brush or wash away this radioactive dust.

You could build a $30,000 shelter, and yet allow fallout to get in unless you knew what you were doing.

NOT THE END

Fallout will not mean the end of all life on earth, even if hundreds of bombs were exploded.

All these are facts. They and other facts answer "Yes" to the many questions people are asking, which all add up to this: "Is there really anything we can do?"

I cannot tell you there is a simple, cheap way to protect yourself if you are in the very center of a target when it receives a direct hit.

But millions of us will not be there.

And many thousands near the center of destruction could survive, with knowledge and protection.

OUT IN OPEN

First, let us assume you are caught in the most defenseless position—out in the open, with no warning an attack is coming.

The first sign is a tremendous light, thousands of times brighter than the sun or a flash of lightning. There's no mistaking what it is.

If you sense it, don't look at it. It could blind you.

Throw yourself instantly to the ground, and preferably behind some protection, such as a building, the curb of a street, a culvert, even a tree, anything to put protection between you and that flash. Lie as flat as you can.

With the light, the first effect is prompt or instant radiation.

Property Right Objection Stalls 'Open' Zoning

Planners Delay Decision On Waterfront Plea

Supporters of open area zoning and sponsors of a "Tiburon open waterfront" suffered what they seemed to consider a severe setback today when the Marin County Planning Commission continued consideration of such zoning for two weeks.

In moving continuance to Nov. 20, Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. asked the staff to study possible provision so that the proposed open area zoning ordinance "can't be applied to private land without consent of the owner."

Schultz suggested the proposed ordinance should not be used to "destroy the value of any private property."

MOUNTAIN OF MAIL

Against a small mountain of pro-ordinance and pro-waterfront petitions and letters, accompanied by many speakers for it, attorney Roderick P. Martinelli interjected a few remarks which set up a serious blockade.

"I'm not opposed to open space," said he, "but I believe this should be put to the county counsel because it provides for taking land without compensation."

"Am I, if a landowner, to sit back for years, unable to use my land until some group come to buy the property? It is unconstitutional to make me do this."

THEIR OWN WAY

Up to that point the pro-ordinance forces had seemed to have things all their own way concerning a measure passed last year by the commission, but blocked later by the board of supervisors. It would give official power to earmark land solely for "open area" public uses.

It was back under consideration primarily because the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League headed by Mrs. Constance Field wanted Northwestern Pacific Railroad waterfront property in Tiburon reserved until money could be raised to buy it for public purposes.

GETS SUPPORT

The ordinance was supported not only by considerable groups of individuals, but also by the County Parks and Recreation Commission, the Marin Conservation League, Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn., and other groups.

Principal Planner William Dobbs stressed that the Tiburon issue was only one of many, including surplus land in the Marin ferts, likely to come under such an ordinance.

Merits of each case should be studied separately, he said.

SALUTES — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India acknowledges salute as he stands with President John F. Kennedy at Quonset Point, R.I., today. Nehru has arrived to talk with the president on halting nuclear tests. (AP Wirephoto)

ON NUCLEAR TESTING

Nehru Arrives For Talk With Kennedy

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India flew here today to open a series of talks with President John F. Kennedy on world problems and on the divergent views of the United States and India toward nuclear testing.

Nehru landed at Quonset Point Naval Air Station after a flight from New York on a presidential plane.

President Kennedy was on hand to greet him, along with John Kenneth Galbraith, U. S. ambassador to India. Nehru and President Kennedy shook hands warmly.

Within a few minutes, Nehru and the president went by automobile to the nearby pier to board the presidential yacht Honey Fitz for the 10-mile trip across Narragansett Bay to Hammersmith Farm for lunch.

A crowd of several hundred gave Nehru a round of applause.

Kennedy and Nehru were to lunch together privately, according to White House press secretary Pierre Salinger. Ambassador Galbraith was to join Mrs. Kennedy and Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and some others for lunch at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport estate of Mrs. Kennedy's family.

Nehru has called the latest series of Soviet nuclear tests "an evil thing."

Kennedy last week set in motion preparations for U. S. tests in the atmosphere. He said this country will conduct explosions in the air if an evaluation of the Soviet Union's shots indicates that U. S. tests are necessary for the security of this country and the free world.

Nehru flew into New York yesterday after a stopover in London where he talked with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Nehru is expected to press Kennedy for a "moratorium on nuclear testing, whatever happens." He reiterated his position that the important thing is to stop all tests now without waiting for a treaty "with inspection and controls and all that."

The American and Indian positions also are diametrically opposed on the question of admission of Red China to the United Nations.

The Indian position, as expounded by Nehru, is that disarmament is one of the major world problems and "you can't deal with it without China."

Germany 'Vendetta' Charged By Russ

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly main political committee today approved a U.S.-British resolution calling for immediate resumption of talks for an ironclad treaty banning nuclear tests.

Despite vigorous Soviet opposition, which included denunciation of West Germany and a declaration that the United States planned to resume atmospheric weapons tests because it feared had lost the atomic military lead, the committee approved the resolution 67-11 with 16 abstentions.

The vote assured easy passage when the measure goes to the full assembly.

VOTES AGAINST

Only Cuba joined the 10-nation Soviet bloc in voting against the measure.

Afghanistan, Cambodia, Finland, France, Ghana, Guinea, Indonesia, Iraq, Mali, Morocco, Nepal, Somalia, Syria, the United Arab Republic, Yemen and Yugoslavia abstained.

The measure notes that Russia rejected proposals by the United States and Britain that further atmospheric tests be suspended and that Geneva talks on a foolproof treaty were suspended pending completion of discussion on the issue here.

The resolution asks the negotiating powers to report progress to the U.N. disarmament commission by next March 1 and calls on all countries to adhere to the nuclear test ban treaty upon its conclusion.

Russia, swinging wide in the final round of the committee debate, charged that West Germany seeks "a revenge vendetta for World War II" and said the same declarations were being made as in Adolf Hitler's time.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said in the General Assembly's main political committee that the United States planned to resume atmospheric nuclear tests because it feared it had lost its atomic leadership to Russia.

DEAN CHARGED

He declared that U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean was guilty of "calumny, fabrication and flagrant violation of facts" in saying that Russia had created the Berlin crisis.

"Mr. Dean and all those who resemble him have roots deep in Wall Street," Tsarapkin said, "and they care very little for the fact that the Soviet Union lost heavily in the war against Germany."

Tsarapkin recited a long list of Soviet casualties, German atrocities and Russia's material losses in World War II.

"This is what the Soviet people paid for the attack by Hitlerian Germany, Mr. Dean," Tsarapkin said. "It is obvious that the Soviet Union and its people want to avoid a recurrence of this."

Dean, remarking after Tsarapkin's speech that further debate would not advance the committee's work, moved immediate closure of argument on a U.S.-British resolution calling for immediate resumption of negotiations on an ironclad treaty on nuclear test suspension under international inspection and control.

Tshombe Slips Back Into His Capital

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe returned to his capital today almost as quietly as he slipped out for a trip to Geneva nine days ago.

There was no advance announcement of Tshombe's arrival aboard a French jet from Paris. He was greeted at the airport by United Nations officials and senior cabinet officials.

Tshombe looked fit and well as he stepped off the plane after his visit to Geneva reportedly for reasons of health. He declined to make any official statement to newsmen.

He said he had spoken briefly this morning with President Fulbert Youlou of the former French Congo on a stopover at the Brazzaville airport.

Tshombe praised his army commander, Gen. Morbert Mike for repelling advances of Congo troops into Katanga.

In Paris last night, Tshombe said the United Nations must adopt a strictly neutral attitude if the situation in the former Belgian Congo is to improve.

Four Killed During Riot In Ecuador

GUYAQUIL, Ecuador (UPI)—Four high school students were killed and four others seriously wounded today when riot police fired into street mobs seeking to attack government buildings.

Army tanks rolled into the streets to guard public buildings as police cleared downtown Guayaquil to prevent further disorders.

Street demonstrations started with a student march through the city's principal streets and culminated with an attempt to storm the private house in which President Jose M. Velasco Ibarra was a guest.

The demonstrators shifted their wrath to the city hall after they were driven out of the residential area and burned several official cars.

Marin Woman Dies In Wreck At Tracy

Mrs. Henrietta Ohlemutz, 68, wife of Sausalito businessman George Ohlemutz, was killed in an auto collision near Tracy yesterday afternoon that injured her husband and five others.

Mrs. Ohlemutz died in Tracy Memorial Hospital a few hours after the crash at the intersection of Highways 33 and 50, four miles east of Tracy. Ohlemutz, also 68, was reported in good condition today at the hospital.

Seriously injured, and reported in fair condition today at the same hospital, were the second driver, Andrew Larsen, 34, of Fremont, Alameda County; his wife, Joann, 30; their sons Richard, 10, and Randy, 6, and Mrs. Larsen's sister, Karen Watson, 16.

The California Highway Patrol said Ohlemutz drove onto Highway 50 from Highway 33 and his car was struck by that driven by Larsen.

The Ohlemutz home is at 231 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry. Ohlemutz was president of the Sausalito Savings and Loan Assn. until it was sold in April, 1960, and is a director of its successor firm, Homestead Savings and Loan. He began his career as a butcher in Sausalito, and is secretary of the Marin County Meat Dealers Assn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohlemutz have one daughter, Mrs. C. Voightlander of San Anselmo.

Planners Establish Civic Center District

An administrative-professional district opposite the civic center in Santa Venetia was established today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The Lauchauer property, east of Highway 101 and between San Pablo Avenue and North San Pedro Road, was reclassified from retail business and suburban agricultural.

Principal Planner B. D. Dobbs explained the planning staff had decided it wasn't necessary to have an over-all plan before rezoning.

There was no opposition and the commission voted unanimously on motion of Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. The supervisors will set public hearings on Nov. 14.

In another action on nearby property, just north of San Rafael from the top of Puerto Suello Hill to San Pablo Road, the commission reluctantly went along with desire of the supervisors to rezone Doreen Nelson properties from single-family to apartment use. But first by vote it again expressed itself as against such change.

As Schultz put it, "in the event that the supervisors still wish to rezone" the commission decided the density level should require 2,500 square feet of land per apartment, rather than the 2,000 square feet asked by Miss Nelson.

Blaze In Sheds Believed Set

Fire suspected by police to have been "maliciously set" burned for more than an hour last night in old Northwestern Pacific Railroad sheds being torn down off Lindero Street between Pacific Gas and Electric Co. property and Albert Park.

Firemen controlled the blaze after an hour. Police said some boys 8 to 10 years old had been observed on the scene.

Ship Carrying 68 Explodes Off Tunisia

TUNIS (UPI)—The 7,129-ton Scottish steamer Clan Keith, carrying a crew of 68, exploded last night in heavy seas and sank early today about 20 miles off the Tunisian coast.

The Tunisian shipping radio station said 60 persons were missing and eight had been rescued.

A French freighter spotted two bodies floating in the water, the station said, and the British warship Blake picked up another body.

WEST POINT PLEBE BACK IN QUARTERS

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI)—United States Military Academy plebe Paul M. Weaver II was confined to his quarters today pending investigation of his mysterious flight from the academy Aug. 30.

Weaver, 18, turned up in his hometown of Portsmouth, Ohio, Saturday after hitchhiking about the South and doing odd jobs as he went.

He was returned to West Point yesterday by military officials.

Girl Playing With Rifle Kills Two

CAMERON, Wis. (UPI)—Two children were shot to death and a third was wounded last night when an 11-year-old playmate accidentally fired her brother's deer rifle.

Barron County authorities said Donna Coon, 13, Superior, and Leroy Smothers, 10, Rice Lake, were killed by a stray bullet fired by Donna's cousin, Marie. Injured was Leroy's brother, Danny, 12.

The accident occurred while the children's parents were at a wedding reception.

Leroy loaded the rifle, and the others apparently took turns aiming it. As Marie pointed the gun at Donna and the two boys, it went off.

Heart Patients Need Spinal Check-ups

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Heart trouble is the number one killer in the United States. After a breakdown, there are limits on what can be done to correct a heart disorder. Tissue that has been damaged cannot be replaced. But the heart is a strong organ and every effort should be taken to make the best use of the strength that is left.

Some heart disorders can be corrected. In any case, you should have a physical check-up regularly.

Many cases of heart trouble are the result of strangulation of the nerves that feed the heart. Frequently this pressure and choking of the nerves is caused by a slightly misaligned spine. Often the heart trouble will clear up entirely once the spine has been corrected. Spinal correction is probably even more important if you have already suffered heart damage. Then you want to be certain your heart is getting proper nerve impulses to save what you have left.

Chiropractors are the best trained spine specialists and are expert in finding and correcting defects which can damage your heart. Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201 (Adv.)

Electronic Tax Machines To Detect Cheats

IRS Announces Speedup Of Computer Center

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service announced today a two-year speedup in its program to process all tax returns automatically at an electronic computer center in this Shenandoah Valley city.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin said IRS expects to complete the conversion to computer operations by 1966. The agency had been thinking earlier in terms of 1968 or possibly 1969.

The speedup announcement was made in a speech Caplin prepared for the dedication of a $750,000 national computer center here. This brick structure eventually will house a master file on 80 million individual and corporate taxpayers. The file will cover 400 miles of magnetic tape to be stored in a single room about 30 by 40 feet.

IDENTITY NUMBER

As part of the shift to electronic tax processing, every taxpayer will be given an identity number so individual accounts won't get mixed up. For 85 per cent of all taxpayers, this will be their Social Security number. All others will be assigned numbers similar to those used in the Social Security program.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, another participant in the dedication, emphasized in his prepared remarks that "the new technique will not dehumanize our tax administration."

"It will not be man against machine—the individual taxpayer against a giant, impersonal monster that thrives only on numbers," Dillon said.

'PERSONAL CONTACTS'

Dillon said, "in fact, the new system should permit the internal revenue service to devote more time to direct, personal contacts."

IRS eventually will pay annual computer rentals of about seven million dollars. The agency said the electronic system will be more expensive than the present one but will be able to do more work and raise more revenue.

The government is counting on the computers to help detect tax cheats, who are estimated to evade about five million dollars in taxes each year. The computers will cross-check the figures on every tax return against reported payments to taxpayers in the form of wages, dividends and interest. This task must now be done by hand, so only spot checks are possible.

Dillon said the electronic system will enhance the certainty and fairness of our tax administration and give honest taxpayers "comforting reassurance" that "life will be made far more difficult" for the minority who cheat.

Except for the assignment of identity numbers, the new system will not directly affect individual taxpayers.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Approval Expected

DETROIT (UPI)—The National Chrysler Council of the United Auto Workers Union today was expected to approve the UAW's new three-year contract with the corporation.

Observers thought the council made up of 120 local leaders from 46 Chrysler plants from coast to coast, would recommend that the firm's 60,000 union members approve the contract.

Dodging Bullets

BERLIN (UPI)—Eleven Germans, including four children, dodged Communist bullets last night in daring border escapes to West Berlin.

The children, one only 9 months old, fled across the border into the French sector in an area where West Berliners grow vegetables in small home plots.

They were among a larger group of East Germans who had tried to make it across but gunfire from Communist border guards apparently cut off the rest of the refugees.

The ones who made it said they did not know whether their friends had been captured or were hiding waiting for another chance to cross.

Shelter Windows

CORNING, N. Y. (UPI)—Radiation-tight windows that would provide a glimpse of the outside from a family fallout shelter have been developed by Corning Glass Works.

The glass panes, four inches square and up to 36 inches thick, are designed to ease the mental strain of confinement. The company said a 24-inch-thick window with frame and casing is priced at "less than $100."

Negro Leader Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Channing H. Tobias, 79, nationally known Negro leader and militant but moderate antisegregationist, died yesterday.

34 Dead In Storm

ATHENS (UPI)—Torrential rains, hail and hurricane-force winds lashed the Athens area for four hours early today, leaving behind 34 dead, at least 50 missing, 300 injured and 3,000 homeless.

The storm, the worst in memory, crumbled houses and turned streets into rivers more than 8 feet deep.

Safe For Queen

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI)—A British Cabinet minister arrived in Accra today to determine if bomb-planting opponents of President Kwame Nkrumah threaten the safety of Queen Elizabeth II, due Thursday for an official visit to this West African member of the Commonwealth.

Duncan Sandys, commonwealth relations secretary, was to determine whether the queen and her husband Prince Philip, can safely undertake their scheduled 11-day visit in view of the bombings Saturday, which damaged Nkrumah's statue in front of Parliament and a freedom arch in Black Star Square.

Rayburn Weaker

BONHAM, Tex. (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn ill with cancer, was somewhat weaker yesterday.

Dr. Joe Risser said Rayburn "is accumulating some mucus in the respiratory passages."

He said the 79-year-old Texas Democrat "was less alert to what was happening about him" than he had been. His condition remained serious.

Employee Move

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The California State Employees Assn. yesterday at its closing session passed a resolution urging changes in the employment policies of the University of California Board of Regents.

The resolution urged the regents to follow state standards in setting employee salaries and to make personnel rules binding on employers as well as employees.

The resolution applied mostly to non-academic employees.

Soviets Issue Threat Over Bomb Testing

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviets have issued a veiled warning that further nuclear testing by the United States and its allies may compel the Soviet Union to prolong its program of tests still numerically behind the West.

President John F. Kennedy's announcement last Thursday that the United States is getting ready for possible resumption of atmospheric tests was the target of a statement issued yesterday by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

NOT 'HALF WAY'

"The statement by the United States president does not meet half way the desires of those who are sincerely pressing for an end to the nuclear arms race," Tass said. "To the underground tests of nuclear weapons which are already being staged in the United States, nuclear tests in the atmosphere are to be added as soon as the U.S. government regards them as necessary."

"In the case of continuation of nuclear tests by the United States of America and its allies, all the more in the case of resumption of American nuclear tests to the atmosphere, the other side will watch these military preparations, primarily the steps in improving nuclear weapons, because it cannot permit the occurrence of such a situation in which the interests of its security would not be reliably ensured."

CONCLUSIONS

"This other side again will have to draw the appropriate conclusions for itself with regard to nuclear weapons tests. It gives without saying that full responsibility for the continuation of the nuclear arms race and for the holding of nuclear tests will be borne then by the United States government."

TRUMAN, TOO, WOULD MUZZLE GEN. WALKER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman, displaying the same nerve and shoot-from-the-hip frankness that characterized his years in office, said yesterday President John F. Kennedy was right when he "muzzled" Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

"He should have been muzzled," the former chief executive said. "I'd have muzzled him if I were president."

Walker was relieved of his command recently after charges that he attempted to indoctrinate his troops with anti-Communist beliefs. He was transferred to a lesser job in Germany, and resigned several days ago.

Moscow Area Gets 'Voice' Broadcasts

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet citizens in the Moscow area were able to hear at least part of yesterday's Voice of America broadcasts telling of Soviet nuclear tests.

The broadcasts in Russian were picked up for three hours on shortwave sets here until the program was jammed.

The English-language version of the program was not jammed. Since English is the second language used now by educated Russians, a considerable number might have heard the program in English.

The Soviets offered competition to the broadcasts on Moscow Radio. A government announcement telling of United States plans to prepare for atmospheric nuclear tests was read on the air throughout the evening.

Old Ferryboat To Be Floating Supermarket

The ferry Sierra Nevada, which once plied between San Rafael and Richmond, was on a slow journey to San Pedro today to wind up her days as a floating supermarket.

Bought at auction in Oakland recently for $20,000 by Los Angeles restaurateur David Tallichet, she was towed out of San Francisco Bay Saturday.

The Sierra Nevada was used by the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry and Transportation Co. until opening of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge in 1956. Tallichet and three friends were aboard the ferry "to ride her all the way to Los Angeles just for the adventure of it."

tion from the nuclear burst. It is X-rays and neutrons flying out in straight lines in all directions from the burst. This is not fallout. The X-rays and gamma rays travel about 1,000 yards at most, then disappear.

With this radiation, at the same speed, comes heat. The heat from a 20 megaton bomb might cause second degree burns at a distance of up to 25 miles, unless you were protected.

A hole in the ground could save you from much or all harm from the radiation and heat. Thousands of Japanese in Hiroshima or Nagasaki would have survived had they known this in time.

Then, traveling at the speed of sound, comes the blast effect, made all the worse because it picks up all kinds of objects and hurls them about like missiles.

Hiding, making yourself small, increases chances of survival. The chances improve the farther you happen to be from the bomb center.

Survive this, and you have probably an hour before fallout arrives.

Why? Because it consists of the nuclear ashes or coals from the burst, and sucked-up material. And it shoots up to 20 to 25 miles high, and has all that distance to fall back to earth.

World Federalist Meeting Is Sunday

The United World Federalists will conduct a "political action workshop" under their national legislative director, Sanford Persons, from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday at the home of Vernon Skewes-Cox on Laurel Grove Avenue, Ross.

The Independent-Journal in an announcement last Thursday erroneously said the meeting was scheduled for yesterday.

Probation Report, Sentencing Delayed

Probation report and sentencing of Sheila Wetzel, 27, of 210 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito for passing worthless checks, was postponed today until Nov. 13 by Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

She has been free on $1,575 bail since pleading guilty on Oct. 16. Postponement was granted on a motion by her attorney, Harold R. Hayes.

Belvedere Volunteers

Belvedere volunteer firemen will hear a report on the group's recent "root beer" bust for 300 city children at their meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the firehouse, according to chairman A. C. Anderson Jr.

Rev. John J. Murray, pastor of St. Hilary's Church, Tiburon, announced that Paulist Father Walter Anthony will hold a demonstration of the Sacrifice of the Mass at the Church at 8 p.m. today. A film will also be shown.

Court Orders Appearance Over Debts

San Quentin Prison inmate Robert Bruce Dalton, serving a life sentence for murder, has been ordered to face his creditors in federal court in San Diego on Nov. 17.

Asst. Warden Dale B. Frady said a writ of habeas corpus ordering appearance of Dalton in court was received at the prison today.

Dalton, 40, filed bankruptcy proceedings in U. S. District Court in San Diego last summer claiming he owed 31 creditors more than $243,000.

Frady said the writ will be turned over to the San Francisco office of Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk for study before any decision is made to produce Dalton in court.

Math Trends Meeting Set

New trends in teaching mathematics will be discussed at a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Redwood High School, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais Union High School District has announced.

Invited are seventh and eighth grade mathematics teachers, principals and superintendents of elementary schools within the Tam District. Other interested persons may also attend, Carlisle said.

Conducting the discussion will be Principal Harold Allison of Drake High, members of the state curriculum commission of mathematics; Charles Kurtz, chairman of the Redwood mathematics department, and Jens Lund of University of California.

Human Relations Meeting Sunday

Harold Simpson, psychologist for the county superintendent of schools office, will be speaker at the second meeting in the series on "Human Relations in the Community" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Tamalpais Center Women's Club, Kentfield.

Simpson's topic will be "Sense and Nonsense About Race." The series is sponsored by the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin. A film and panel discussion on job discrimination will be given on Nov. 26.

Mill Valley Signups

The Mill Valley Boys Club will hold basketball signups at 7 p.m. today and Thursday at the Tamalpais High School gymnasium for sixth, seventh and eighth graders, each grade of which will have two teams, announced co-directors Dick Powers and Jean Wegscheider.

Special Meeting

Sausalito School District trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office to discuss water lines and fire hydrants to be installed in the Bayside School area by Perego, Harney and Teague Inc.

San Rafael Will Consider City Hall Study Contract

Contract for a site and space study for a future city hall may be awarded to Ebasco Services Inc. by the San Rafael City Council at its meeting tonight.

Three councilmen who met with a representative of the firm have expressed themselves in favor of hiring Ebasco Services for work preliminary to building a new city hall or enlarging the present one. The firm's fee is $4,000.

Amendment of the architectural control ordinance to permit appeal by persons other than the applicant is to receive first reading.

A complete study of city insurance coverage, proposed by Griffenhagen-Kroeger Inc. at a fee of $1,075, will be advocated by City Manager Dan E. Andersen.

Hearings will be set on an appeal by Rudolph Lang and Gasoline Maketeers, Inc., from

Hamilton Wing To Take Part In Competition

The 349th Troop Carrier Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base will be one of 13 reserve units taking part in the fifth annual troop carrier competition at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Texas, on Nov. 15 through 19.

Representing the 349th will be three crews led by Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore, wing commander. Among his personal crew will be Maj. Ray M. Foster, Capt. Thomas E. Burford and TSgt. Willard Stell, all of Novato.

The competition consists of parachuting personnel and supplies into specified drop zones from C-119 "Flying Boxcars." Each of the three crews will fly low level missions and medium level night flights to test navigation and bundle drop efficiency.

Harbor Dredging Extension Sought

George L. Zaro has requested a two-year extension of time in dredging a yacht harbor, making fills and dredging a connecting channel to deep water in the westerly arm of Richardson Bay, the Army Engineer District in San Francisco announced Saturday.

Objections to possible hindrances of navigation must be forwarded to the Corps of Engineers at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco, by Dec. 4, said Col. John A. Morrison, district engineer.

Zaro's project, authorized in two Department of Army permits, consists of:

- 1—Dredging a yacht harbor and a 75-foot wide by-pass channel, all six feet below the mean lower low water line at the upper end of the Sausalito Canal.
- 2—Dredging a 40-foot wide connecting channel along the canal.

Water Directors To Consider Annexation

Annexation of the David Sweeney ranch in Sonoma County to the North Marin County Water District will come up before the district directors at their meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The directors will also consider extension of water service on Marion Avenue and the sale of a district-owned lot on Center Road.

Stolen Bonds Trial Starts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Trial by jury began today of Joe Waugh Jr., 38, of San Francisco, and James Colby Danielson, 31, of Stinson Beach, who are charged with conspiracy to dispose of $20,000 in stolen government bonds.

Secret service agents said the bonds were taken May 19 in the robbery of a Sacramento pharmacy operated by the uncle of James Arthur Yee, 45, of Sacramento.

Yee earlier had pleaded guilty of forging some of the bonds. He is scheduled to be sentenced after the conclusion of the trial of Danielson and Waugh.

Message On Car Is Mysterious

"Never lend" was the mysterious message Kent S. Castle of 150 Almonte Boulevard, Mill Valley, found written on the hood of his car Saturday afternoon.

He reported to Mill Valley police the full message: "For self preservation under direct circumstances never lend any individual anything if it is within your mortal powers to refuse." It was signed "McBride."

Trustees To Consider McGill's Replacement

Tamalpais Union High School district trustees will consider an appointment to fill a vacancy on the board at their meeting today at 8 p.m. in the district office.

The vacancy resulted when Howard I. McGill of Tiburon resigned on Oct. 16.

Miller To Meet In Mill Valley, Bolinas Tomorrow

Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) will meet on water matters twice in Southern Marin tomorrow, first with the Bolinas Harbor District commissioners at 10 a.m. in Bolinas and second at 8 p.m. with the Mill Valley City Council.

Miller is to be asked in Mill Valley at the city hall what the chances are of the city getting a congressional grant to help pay for flood control on Corte Madera Del Presidio Creek. This creek flooded over in the winter of 1955 causing much damage.

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners are to meet first at the Bolinas Community Center and then go to Bolinas Lagoon where they will review navigation improvements of the lagoon.

Corte Madera's Population Shows Growth

Corte Madera Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow has received word from the state confirming the town's population growth from 5,962 to 6,400 as of Sept. 30, which will bring more state money to the town. Brandow said the increase will give Corte Madera an additional $874 in gasoline taxes and more than $1,000 in-lic revenue from state automobile license fees.

Last year's gasoline tax money for Corte Madera was $20,300 and in-lic funds totaled $29,600.

Hearing Slated In Corte Madera

Corte Madera town councilmen will continue public hearing on abatement of nuisance against the S and L subdivision today at 8 p.m. in a regular council meeting in the town hall.

Among other items on the agenda are: Request for an amendment to the sales and use tax ordinance; a request for placement of drop boxes for the Salvation Army on town property; request from San Clemente Land Co. for approval of off-site improvements in Mariner Cove unit four, and a request for adoption of the county ordinance calling for inspection of food handlers.

Discussion Set On Image Of America

Dr. Seymour M. Lipset, professor of sociology at the University of California, will open the College of Marin 1961-62 concert and lecture series tomorrow night.

He will discuss "America's Image Abroad" at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at the college campus in Kentfield. Lipset is author of "Political Man," a study of the implications and complexities of democracy.

OBITUARIES

Charles Dorais Succumbs

Charles E. Dorais, retired owner of the Ed Dorais Tobacco Co. of San Francisco, died at his sister's Larkspur home after a heart attack yesterday.

Dorais, who had been under doctor's care for a heart condition for six years, resided with his sister, Mrs. Josephine Wilson, at 25 Frances Avenue.

A native of Butte, Mont., he had spent 12 years in San Francisco before coming to Larkspur six years ago.

Besides his interest in the tobacco business, he was also active as a musician. A drummer, he was a member of the American Federation of Musicians Local 6.

He is survived by his sister and a brother, Eugene A. Dorais of Alameda.

Funeral services will be held at the Chapel of the Hills Mortuary, San Anselmo, tomorrow at 10 a.m., with interment at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

WILLIAM ROBERTS

Private funeral services for William S. Roberts, father of William O. Roberts of San Anselmo, were conducted Friday at the W. C. Laswell and Co. Mortuary in Daly City.

Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

Roberts died in San Francisco Thursday.

He leaves also his wife Mary J., a sister Mrs. Katherine Humphreys of Utica, N. Y., and four grandchildren.

DANIEL WILSON

Daniel T. Wilson, 88, retired carpenter of 422 Pine Street, Sausalito, who had lived in Marin County for 74 years, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness. He had been admitted to the hospital Friday after his ailment had taken a turn for the worse.

Wilson was a native of California and had worked for Marin shipbuilding firms for 20 years.

He is survived by his wife, Jennie, and a daughter Mrs. Cecilia Runkel of Berkeley. He was a member of San Rafael Aerie 256, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

A Rosary will be recited at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley at 8 o'clock tonight. Requiem Mass will be celebrated at St. of the Sea Church in Sausalito at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. Interment will be private.

SISTER M. BASIL

A Requiem Mass will be offered for Sister Mary Basil, O.P., member of the community at the Dominican Convent, San Rafael, for the past 10 years, tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the convent's chapel followed by interment at Benicia.

Sister Mary Basil, 81, died Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital in Stockton after a brief illness.

A native of San Francisco, she had spent most of her life teaching in California Catholic schools.

She is survived by four sisters, Sister Irene of the Daughters of Charity; Mrs. Isobell Wilson, Mrs. Virginia Dorian, and Mrs. Agnes Burnside.

REUNITED—Mrs. Harley Sax of Albuquerque, N.M., clings to 4-year-old Brenda Marlene Jennings, whom she identified as the daughter who disappeared June 27, 1960. They are brought together in Omaha, Neb. (AP Wirephoto)

Consumers Are Warned: Make Yourself Heard

Mrs. Helen Ewing Nelson of Mill Valley says consumers must make themselves heard if they want the information they need to be effective in their purchases.

Mrs. Nelson, the first state consumer counsel in the history of California, made her remarks Saturday to the annual convention of the Assn. of California Consumers in San Francisco.

She said consumers not only have a right to deal as equals in the marketplace but a responsibility to maintain that right.

"In marketing circles today," she said, "it is sophisticated to picture the consumer as a mesmerized, unblinking, unthinking individual with money in pocket and hand outstretched to grasp any big, gaudy, jazzed-up package, regardless of its contents or value."

In Canadian gas stations, one gallon is equal to five American quarts.

LONG SEARCH ENDS

Kidnaped Girl, 4, Mother Reunited

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Don't say a word, the judge cautioned. So, though she had waited 16 months for this moment, Mrs. Harley Sax, 23, walked into the FBI office without a word.

The 4-year-old blonde she found there looked at Mrs. Sax. In her blue eyes the watching judge saw a look of recognition.

The young Albuquerque, N.M. mother broke into tears. The child ran into her arms.

There was no question, said Judge Seward L. Hart after the reunion yesterday, that the girl was Brenda Marlene Jennings, daughter of Mrs. Sax by a previous marriage. She had disappeared from her grandparents' home in Guthrie, Okla., June 27, 1960.

The mother had sought the child in 14 states, but it was the FBI and Judge Hart, of the Omaha Juvenile Court, who finally brought them together.

Judge Hart and Thomas Gearty, special agent in charge of the Omaha FBI office, said they had pieced together this story:

The night Brenda disappeared she had been permitted to accompany Billy Don Nelson, 29, of Guthrie, a family friend, on an errand. Nelson and the child vanished.

In August, 1960, neighbors in Omaha reported a little girl crying at an upstairs window. The child officers found behind a double-paned door had dyed hair. She was healthy, but the room was filthy.

The man who posed as her father used the name of Jack Wilbanks. He had served a 10-day vagrancy sentence.

Brenda became a court ward and was placed in a juvenile home. When Wilbanks was unsuccessful in gaining her custody, he disappeared.

Working with the name Wilbanks, Judge Hart and the FBI learned of the missing girl in Oklahoma. Wilbanks is the name of Mrs. Sax's parents with whom Brenda had been staying.

That led to yesterday's meeting.

The FBI said a comparison of pictures indicated the man who used the Wilbanks name in Omaha and Billy Don Nelson are the same individual. He is sought under a federal warrant charging unlawful flight, Gearty said.

Gearty knew of no motive for taking Brenda.

Home Builders Talk

Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) will discuss "Congress Looks at Home Building" at a lunch of Associated Home Builders, Inc., at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco Nov. 14.

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD

After 30 common kidney or bladder irritations often occur and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent passages both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by ebbing irritating terms in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at drugists. Feel better fast.

Stewardess' Body Found Below Bridge

The body of 23-year-old Frances Hurliman of San Carlos, United Air Lines stewardess, was found on the earth at Fort Point under the San Francisco terminus of the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday.

The body, found by three fishermen, was identified by her mother, Mrs. Lena H. Hurliman, wife of Frank Hurliman, United's chef at San Francisco International Airport.

Miss Hurliman, whose mother said she had been in poor health and under the care of a psychiatrist, had left her home Thursday "to mail a letter."

Deputy Coroner James Priedaux of San Francisco said she probably jumped off the bridge some time Friday night. Her mother received a letter from her Saturday which said, "Dear Everyone: I'm going to jump off the Golden Gate Bridge today..."

She was the 214th confirmed suicide from the span.

Three Deputies Go 120-MPH To Catch Speeding Driver

Marin County sheriff's deputies in three cars reported they drove at speeds up to 120 miles per hour yesterday to overtake Frank C. Hoburg, 22, a San Francisco clerk, as he headed north on Highway 101.

Hoburg was booked at the county jail on charges of reckless driving, speeding, and evading arrest. He was released on $316 bail, to appear in municipal court Wednesday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff William Bradford picked up Hoburg's trail at Corte Madera. He flashed a radio alert that brought two other sheriff's cars into the pursuit.

Patrolman Leo Schwab of San Rafael police made the arrest as Hoburg turned onto Francisco Boulevard and found his way blocked by another car, the officers reported.

Drunken Driver Draws $166 Fine

Ruben Lloyd Coble, 23, of 89 Taylor Drive, Fairfax, must pay $166 fine and remain on six month probation for drunken driving.

He was sentenced Friday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court. For the next three months, Coble may drive only for work. He was caught on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

Bolinas Sewage Problem Tackled

Preliminary steps were taken Saturday night for establishment of a governmental agency to handle sewage disposal problems of the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

A standing-room-only crowd of more than 150 at the Bolinas Community Center heard a heated discussion of problems brought about by an imminent state "cease and desist" order which would prevent Bolinas Sanitary District from dumping sewage into Bolinas Lagoon. If the order is enforced, homes served by the district would be forced to find other sewage disposal.

John S. Hamilton, president of the Bolinas Property Owners

Assn., presided at the meeting and introduced a half dozen speakers who discussed the legal and physical problems of a sewage disposal system for the entire watershed, including Bolinas, Bolinas Mesa, the Up-lands, Stinson Beach and the sand spit.

Under the plan proposed, petitions would be circulated to form a county water district, a district capable of handling sewage problems. Deputy County Counsel Robert Smallman told the crowd this kind of a district could better handle their problems than a sanitary or other type of district.

If 10 per cent of the voters at the last general election sign the petition, about 100 would be needed, the supervisors may then set the boundaries, after public hearing, and call an election for formation of the district.

The plan then calls for district officers to obtain a federal loan for a complete engineering study and recommendation of the best system or systems for the area. Then a bond issue would be proposed to finance the construction.

Sherman Smith, long-time Bolinas resident, headed opposition to the plan. He said Bolinas should solve its own problems and Stinson Beach solve its. He suggested the Bolinas Sanitary District borrow money for the study just in the Bolinas area.

Late in the meeting, after about half of the crowd had gone home, a vote was called. The show of hands was overwhelmingly in favor of circulating the petitions. Many of those present signed petitions immediately.

Sponsoring the meeting, besides the Bolinas Property Owners Assn., were the Progressive Club of Stinson Beach, Bolinas Community Center and Bolinas Beach Improvement Club.

Hearing Set On Biggio Property

The Mill Valley Planning Commission set a public hearing for Nov. 28 to discuss the rezoning of the Biggio property on Camino Alto and touching project 17. The proposal is to rezone from residential to commercial-recreational.

The hearing was set following a request from attorney William T. Bagley, representing Biggio interests, at the third master plan hearing held Thursday. The property is a little over four acres.

The next hearing by the planners on the master plan will be Thursday, when parks and recreation, school sites and public buildings will be discussed.

REPLACEMENT FOR MAN

Mobot Mark II, carrying a geiger counter in its "hands," demonstrates how it can substitute for man in dangerously radiated areas. The vehicle's arms are double-jointed at wrists, elbows and shoulders. Mobot scoots around on three wheels. Two television cameras mounted on arm-like booms carefully watch as tasks are performed. Operator Stan Pearlman puts the machine through its paces. In actual operation a tape system will enable the machine to repeat recorded tasks without outside help. Shown at Chicago, the machine was developed by Hughes Aircraft Co. at Fullerton. (AP Wirephoto)

Grass Blaze Brings Warning On Fires

Three 8-year-old boys who started a bonfire in Strawberry Manor yesterday were blamed for a blaze that swept 15 acres of grass and brush.

The fire got out of the boys' control at 11:20 a.m. Three trucks from the Marin County Fire Department, and one each from Alto, Tiburon, and Sausalito Fire Departments sped to the scene.

Within a half hour, the flames were brought under control, before they could spread to homes on Ricardo and Inez Avenues.

The boys, meanwhile, ran from the scene. They were found later by sheriff's deputies, and sternly warned.

"People seem to have the idea that because the mornings are cool, the fire danger is past," said County Fire Chief Charles A. Reilly. "The grass will still burn; it's as dry as ever. The time for precautions is by no means over."

Ex-Marinite Suspected Of Attack

David Alan Richards, 22, formerly of Novato and now of Milpitas, was jailed on suspicion of attempted rape and assault and battery last night by San Rafael police.

Officer Wade R. Powell said a San Francisco woman complained Richards attempted to attack her in a car in the San Rafael hills, but relented and released her from the car on Grand Avenue.

He then followed her and two companions to a taxi stand and threatened them, she said.

Officer Powell spotted Richards' car on Irwin Street between Third and Fourth Streets, and arrested Richards with assistance of Patrolman Charles Hickey and District Attorney's Investigator Donald E. Midyett. Bail was set at $2,000.

Union To Appeal Against Tips Tax

Chauffeurs Union Local 265 will appeal to the United States Supreme Court in its fight to keep San Francisco taxicab drivers' tips from being taxed, attorney Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley said last night.

The U.S. Internal Revenue Service was upheld by the U.S. Court of Claims in Washington last week in its ruling that the tips are subject to income taxes. Behr has represented the union for the past two years in the case.

Behr said he will file a petition as soon as possible asking the Supreme Court for a hearing.

Teener Held In Stabbing At Restaurant

A Richmond woman was stabbed six times with a saw-toothed paring knife in a brawl early yesterday at the Pig Haven Restaurant on Shoreline Highway near Sausalito.

Held in juvenile hall on suspicion of the attack was a 16-year-old San Francisco girl who was first booked at Marin County jail when she gave her age as 22. The girl was transferred to juvenile hall after an inmate at the jail recognized her and informed authorities she was a juvenile.

She was arrested at the restaurant by sheriff's deputies during their second visit there in search of her. When the officers arrived the first time in answer to a report on the stabbing, the victim, Doris Baker, 29, had been removed to the hospital. Her assailant was not found at that time.

Deputy E. A. Koehn questioned the victim at Marin General Hospital, but was told she had no idea who had attacked her.

In answer to a call from the restaurant about an hour later, Deputy Carl E. Mead Jr. returned and found the girl in the woman's restroom. She admitted the stabbing, Mead said, adding "I hope I killed her."

Juvenile authorities said a detention hearing would probably be held tomorrow.

Miss Baker was released from the hospital after treatment for stab wounds in arm and back.

Cycle Smashup Injures Driver

A Corte Madera man suffered scratches on his face and hands when his motorcycle smashed headon into an automobile on the Corte Madera grade yesterday.

Milton W. Ghee, 21, of 525 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera, rounded a curve on the grade and apparently strayed over the double line, said Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett. His southbound motorcycle smashed into a car driven by Leonard George Dahm Jr., 39, of 117 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley.

Ghee refused hospitalization, Hockett said.

Hearing Slated On Unification Of Two Districts

An informal public hearing on the Novato-San Jose School District unification election on Nov. 21, will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Novato High School cafeteria.

Robert E. Rogers of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization will be chairman. Other members of the committee will be present to answer questions.

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and Edwin L. Blackmore, his administrative assistant, will probably participate.

Members of both the Novato Unified School District board and the San Jose District board are expected.

Marinwood Services Unit Meets Tonight

Marinwood Community Services District board of directors will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Mary Silverira School.

Mrs. Fred Bolding, secretary, said the directors will discuss a proposed bond election to finance a firehouse site, park area, and swimming pool.

Brush Fire Threatens Los Angeles Homes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A brush fire broke out this morning in the Hollywood Hills near Stone Canyon Reservoir and, fanned by gusty winds, spread rapidly toward exclusive residential areas.

City firemen termed it a major emergency and called all available units to the scene. Planes began bombing hot spots with fire retardant borate solution.

The Los Angeles County Fire Department sent one helicopter to the scene and said additional units were ready if needed.

Police closed all canyon roads between Beverly Glen and Sepulveda Boulevard from Sunset Boulevard to Ventura Boulevard.

The blaze began on the San Fernando Valley side of the hills and raced over the crest and down toward the Beverly Hills side.

There were no immediate reports of damage, but firemen said there are about 100 homes in the general area of the fire.

The region has homes in the $40,000 to $100,000 and up class.

Film stars in the area, although not in the immediate fire path, include Marlon Brando, Maureen O'Hara, Greer Garson, Shirley MacLaine and Gale Storm.

A towering cloud of smoke arced skyward and spread over the Los Angeles basin, visible to millions.

The weather was warm and dry and winds, which caused widespread dust storms and damage in Southern California, persisted today.

Former Convict Captured After Daring Jail Escape

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Robert D. Brooks, 23, a short, muscular, handsome former convict, was back at city prison today after a bold, acrobatic escape Saturday in full view of officers and other convicts.

Brooks, 23, booked for assault with intent to commit murder Wednesday after a sailor was knifed in an Eddy Street bar, had a premiere audience of officers last night while he dramatically described his escape.

He was returned to prison less than 24 hours later. San Leandro police found him hiding in the closet of a friend's house.

Brooks said he "somehow" found the door to his cell unlocked, so he walked out, with in sight of officers sitting at a desk.

He said he shinnied up the cell bars to the top of the cell block, then grabbed overhead pipes and moved hand over hand across the ceiling to an air vent and escape to the roof.

He again used pipes to swing from the city prison building to the next building—the county jail building. This feat was done five stories above ground. He scaled a 15-foot wall at the

Redwood Senior Gets YMCA Post

A Redwood High School senior will lead Northern California delegation to the Young Men's Christian Assn. annual Model Legislature at the state capitol in February.

William Weckel, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Weckel, 40 Monte Vista Avenue, Larkspur, was elected speaker pro-tem of the Assembly during a pre-legislature caucus of delegates at Stanford University.

The Marin County YMCA plans to send a delegation of 14 to the session in Sacramento. The Model Legislature which is themed "Democracy Must be Learned by Each Generation" is annually attended by over 400 teen-age delegates from throughout California.

Wilderness Areas Bill Is Denounced

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to freeze wilderness areas into the nation's forests was denounced today as "unnecessary and harmful to the nation's economy."

Gordon Goodwin, chairman of the public lands committee for the Western Oil and Gas Assn., appeared before a house subcommittee headed by Rep. Gracie Pfof (D-Ida).

He said the existing seven million acres of wilderness, wild and canoe lands within national forests are used by less than 1 per cent of all visitors to the forests.

"This limited use indicates that there is no need to freeze 48 million additional acres in a wilderness system," Goodwin told Mrs. Pfof.

The oil spokesman said that the bill, which would result in large areas of public lands being administered for a single use wilderness, ignores the concept of administering public lands for multiple uses. He said multiple uses practices had "resulted in a maximum economic and esthetic return to the people of the United States."

Besides, he said, new technology make oil and gas exploration and development compatible with esthetic, recreational and wilderness uses of public lands.

"The bill ignores the oil industry's proven ability and willingness to conduct its operations so as to preserve and augment these other land values," said Goodwin.

The wilderness bill, authored by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (R-U.M.) was approved Sept. 6 by the Senate on a 78-8 vote and was referred to the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

49ers To Stick With Shotgun For Rest Of Season

Weapon Ineffective, But Salvages A Tie

By JACK HANLEY

Red Hickey made it crystal clear today that the Shotgun is the 49er weapon for the rest of the 1961 NFL campaign even though it again was effectively silenced and played no part in salvaging that 20-20 from Detroit.

Only superb individual performances by Abe Woodson, Jim Johnson and Tommy Davis were responsible for the tie which keeps the 49ers still in the NFL Western Division race due to the Packers and Bear upsets.

The Shotgun formation couldn't sustain one touchdown drive with John Brodie its exclusive operator during the first half that ended with the Lions leading 17-0. And it only sputtered occasionally in the second half when Hickey sent Bill Kilmer and Bob Waters to Brodie's assistance.

Nevertheless, Hickey has no intention of junking the Shotgun and while he still might not have the same faith in it he once did, the redhead firmly stated:

"We're going to continue using this (Shotgun) system—but the man at quarterback has to be able to run with the ball. We got away from our rotating quarterbacks in the first half and that's my fault. Hereafter, all three of our quarterbacks will be used as they were in the second half but that doesn't necessarily mean we are going to alternate them on each play."

The Kezar crowd of 56,743 gave Brodie the severest booing ever given a pro performer in these parts. It was a continuing roar of disapproval and stemmed from Honest John's failure to run with the ball when he had a couple of open field opportunities. However, Brodie's teammates didn't feel that way about him. They presented him with the game ball.

The crowd finally relented when Brodie passed the 49ers into position for Davis' 41-yard field goal that came with four seconds left in the game.

BOOS OLD HAT

"Booing has been going on since '09," said Hickey. "People pay their way in and that's their right. Anyone who lets boos bother them would be in trouble, no matter what his profession, even ditch digging."

The fact that Brodie was the coolest person in Kezar during those hectic closing seconds indicates he hasn't a thin skin. He knows what Hickey said about booing is the customer's prerogative. He also knows, as all pros do, that boos can be quickly turned to cheers.

"Just throw a touchdown pass," said Brodie, "and those who were booing you a moment before will hand you the palm. It's all in the game."

Concerning his decision to stick by the Shotgun, Hickey didn't admit that the decision is forced on him. Even if he secretly hoped he could switch back to the T, it's a little late in the season for any such drastic change. Timing in the two formations is considerably different — and timing only comes with patient practice.

But he did admit that he was "very proud" of the way the 49ers came back in the second half for the tie "which at this time is almost as good as a win because we still have a chance at both the Packers and Bears."

DRAINED EMOTIONS

The action both teams crammed into the final 65 seconds of the game drained the emotions of the Kezar crowd. The clock showed exactly 1:05 to play when Davis booted a 34-yard three-pointer that knotted the count at 17-17.

Now, Jim Ninowski took the Lions from their own 20 following the kickoff to the 49er 17 on four consecutive passes, one to end Gail Gibbons, the other three to end Gail Cogdill. Believing it was safe to settle for a field goal since only 30 seconds were left, the Lions did just that. Jim Martin kicked one from the 19 and the Lions were in front again 20-17.

J. D. Smith returned the ensuing kickoff 24 yards, racing out of bounds at the 49er 44 to stop the clock which now showed 20 seconds. Brodie won the affection of the fans by rifling two fast passes to Smith who smartly stepped out of bounds each time, leaving the ball on Detroit's 34 with four seconds left — all that Davis needed for his tying boot.

WOODSON DOES IT

Woodson got the 49ers back in the ball game midway in the third quarter when he took Yale Lary's towering 55-yard punt on the 20 and, after whirlwind and twisting away from several of the enemy, raced 80 yards for the first 49er TD of the game. Davis added the PAT to make the score 17-17.

It remained that way until Jim Johnson, Woodson's replacement in the 49er defensive backfield, intercepted one of Ninowski's passes that popped out of Pat Studstill's hands on the Lion 15 as the third quarter closed.

Kilmer and Waters managed to get the necessary 15 yards. First Kilmer ran for two, next Waters connected with a 10-yarder to R. C. Owens, and in two tries Kilmer took it over from the three, Davis, of course, added the extra point and the count went to 17-14 but didn't stay that way in those final 65 seconds during which many of Kezar's fans screamed themselves into pretty good cases of laryngitis.

Detroit's double set of ends gave the 49er defense fits during the first half. The 49ers dropped off seven men to protect against the four receivers, leaving the rushing job to Leo Nomellini, Dan Colchico, Monte Clark and Charlie Kruger.

Against this defense, Ninowski worked the screen pass to Nick Pietrosante at the right moment and the former Notre Dame fullback went 76 yards to the 49er three. Primarily because of three five yard penalties, two of them for backfield in motion, the other for illegal procedure, the Lions didn't get a TD, settling for a 19-yard field goal by Martin early in the second quarter.

When the 49ers persisted in dropping off seven men, Ninowski found the field wide open and ran 40 yards for a touchdown with 4:44 left in the half.

PASS GOOD FOR FIRST—Detroit Lion end Jim Gibbons is high up as he catches a pass from Lion quarterback Jim Ninowski that was good for a 14-yard gain and a first down during the second quarter of the 20-20 tie game with the San Francisco 49ers at Kezar Stadium yesterday. San Rafael Cadets In Tie For Bay Grid League Lead

The San Rafael Military Academy Cadets today are tied with Menlo in the race for the Bay League football title.

They grabbed their position by knocking off Lick Wilmerding High at San Francisco Saturday 14-6. The Marin team got in the first blow and it proved fatal to the city people. A Wilmerding center hiked the ball over his kicker's head and into his endzone on a fourth down punt situation in the first period for an automatic safety and two points for the Cadets.

In the subsequent quarter Cadet Joe Heinz ripped off a 40-yard touchdown run, and halfback Bill Freeman of San Rafael did the same thing in the third period. Both PAT efforts were futile.

Wilmerding's only tally came on a long pass play in the same quarter.

Cadet coach Phil Roark, in addition to his ball carriers, praised the defensive efforts of tackle Dave Blaine, halfback Dave Kerr, linebacker Freeman, and end John Kned-

The big game for the Cadets will be Nov. 18 with Menlo. If the Cadets K. O. Half Moon Bay next week (Moon Bay is winless to date), then the Menlo-San Rafael game will decide the championship. In addition it is an age old rival contest between the two teams with Menlo winning every game for the last 14 years.

Of all the academy teams, this year's team, led by Roark, should cut the mustard.

San Anselmo Team Still Leaders Without A Loss

The San Anselmo Merchants still lead and are undefeated in the San Francisco AAA semi-professional winter baseball league after clobbering the Franciscan Restaurant team yesterday at Memorial Park, 10-5.

It was Hub pitcher Dick Spackman's big day. Pitching a three hitter, Spackman also led the hitting with three for five, and topped it all off by striking out 12 Franciscan batters. Spackman was the day's winning hurler and batter, to say the least.

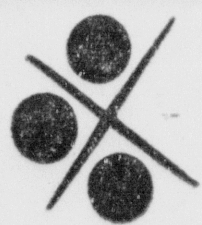

Manager Pete Maggi's outfit got 10 runs on 13 hits.

Colts Humiliate Packers; Bears Muff Chance To Tie Green Bay For Lead

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

There were whispers around the National Football League that Johnny Unitas had slipped and the Baltimore Colts were just another ball club, but don't try to sell that idea today to the chagrined Green Bay Packers.

Unitas, who had been taking his lumps during these past two seasons, looked like the All-Pro quarterback of 1957-58-59 Sunday when he threw four touchdown passes and led the Colts to a 45-21 romp over the Packers in the N.F.L.'s upset-of-the-day.

The champion Philadelphia Eagles staved off defeat and clung to their Eastern Division lead when they pushed over a third-period touchdown and then watched the Chicago Bears miss two comparatively easy fourth-period field goal tries. The Eagles won, 16-14.

The Cleveland Browns, one of the Eagles' top challengers, weren't so lucky. They were upset, 17-13, by the Pittsburgh Steelers when castoff Bob Schelker caught a 26-yard touchdown pass from Rudy Bukich with less than three minutes to play.

It was easy pickings for the New York Giants, who scored their most one-sided victory in 28 seasons by overwhelming the hapless Washington Redskins, 53-0. This was the 16th consecutive N. F. L. defeat for the Redskins.

The San Francisco 49ers and Detroit Lions battled to a 20-20 tie in the N. F. L.'s first deadlock of the season; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 31-17, and the Los Angeles Rams dropped the Minnesota Vikings into the Western Division cellar with a 31-17 setback.

Despite the Packers' defeat at Baltimore, they remained in first place in the Western Division with a 6-2 record as the runnerup Bears (5-3) lost at Philadelphia. Philadelphia (7-1) risks its Eastern division lead next Sunday against the Giants (6-2) in New York.

The Colts, with a 4-4 record, do not figure to be much more than "Spoilers" the rest of the season. But for one day, at least, coach Weeb Ewbank watched the vestige of his great team that won the N.F.L. title in 1958 and '59.

"We blocked and tackled today," Ewbank succinctly summed up the victory. When someone asked him if he thought the Colts would continue to block and tackle for the rest of the season, Ewbank shot back:

"Have you got a ouija board?"

Unitas rarely was in better form. He completed 22 out of 35 passes for 218 yards. He threw four yards to Alex Hawkins and 38 to Lenny Moore for touchdowns in the first half and then hit Jimmy Orr with 19 and 4-yard TD tosses during the final half.

The Packers hardly looked to him the club which had won six straight games and held their opponents to an average of less than 10 points per game. With linebacker Ray Nitschke in the army and halfbacks Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler due to follow him, Green Bay could be in trouble in the tough Western Division.

Philadelphia scored its winning touchdown in the third period when Clarence Peaks grabbed a 33-yard pass from Sonny Jurgensen and then plunged over from the three-yard line. The Bears, who had won four straight games, threatened twice in the final period but Roger Le Clerc missed a field goal try from the 18 and Ed Brown failed on a 13-yard attempt. Jurgensen passed for a total of 249 yards, including a 55-yard touchdown toss to Tommy McDonald.

Del Shofner caught three touchdown passes in the Giants' rout of the Redskins at New York. Y. A. Tittle passed for three scores and Rookie Bobby Galters added two touchdowns. New York held the Redskins to a total of 82 yards and twice trapped quarterback Norm Snead in the end zones for safeties.

Tom Wilson and Joe Marconi, a pair of reserve fullbacks, each scored a last-period touchdown as the Rams broke a 17-17 tie and beat the Vikings. Rookie quarterback Fran Tarkenton's passing had kept Minnesota in the game.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Novato Clinches Tie For Marin League Football Title

COLFER RUNNING—Joe Colfer, Novato High wingback, knocks off some yardage after a key block (right) by an unidentified Hornet was thrown

TD NULLIFIED—Dennis McCormick (50), Novato halfback, carries over right guard from a yard out for a Hornet touchdown against Marin Catholic in the second quarter. But it was called back on a penalty against Novato. Quarterback Don Scribner ran it in from the six on the next play, however. Referee is Dick Hart of Ross.

Hornets Roll Over Marin Catholic '11'

By PAUL MILLER

The Novato High School Hornets today are the sole leaders and next week can do no less than tie for the title of the 1961 Marin County Athletic (football) League.

They set themselves up for a possible undefeated league season by easily overwhelming the still spirited, but bruised, Marin Catholic Wildcats 38-14 Saturday afternoon in a game whose second and third periods were as boring as the first and fourth were exciting.

Coach Marlin Olsen's buzzing and bruising Hornet machine needed only the catalyst of spectacular 67-yard runback of a stolen ball by tackle John Hassett of Marin Catholic in the sixth minute of the first quarter to jolt it into action. The Hornets scored near the end of that quarter, picked up 19 more points in the second period, and 13 additional in the final quarter. Marin scored in the last two periods.

Olsen's team, spearheaded by its powerful forward wall was no match for the at times all-junior Catholic team Saturday. Novato's 21 to Marin's four first downs say that.

Wildcat quarterbacks John Jones and Lad Wilsey alternated plays during the first half with coach Harry Moore calling the shots. Much of the second half however, Jones played fullback and Lad Wilsey, quarterback along with halfback John Onetto. Ironically the Wildcats backfield had a bit more success running than passing. Jones and kicker Paul Brady, used to pressure action all season, found Saturday's onslaught by the Hornets, especially tackles Art Cherry and John Cook, and end Martin Baccaglio, to be explosive, allowing no time whatever. Brady kicked well, but was forced to get it way so quickly that his effort suffered its usual distance.

NOVATO FUMBLES

Novato never let up. Their effort at the game's outset was really only hampered by two key fumbles with which Marin took almost full advantage. Dennis McCormick, Craig Bond, Don Scribner and Ron Green did much of the grinding slave work of picking up unglorified mid and quarter-field yardage for the Hornets. Each scored, but each also handed, passed, blocked on other successful attempts.

Olsen had his outfit up so high that an Army guerrilla scout would have put the whole bunch over to clean up Viet Nam as a single unit had they signed on the dotted line.

The Catholics never expressed selfpity, nor threw in any towels, however. They gave it all they had. When Olsen put in the second string defensive unit, Marin pushed it to the Hornet goal and scored against partially first stringers. In the final period the Catholics scored against a fresh third string Novato defense.

The first period excitement began when in 12 successive plays Novato had rumbled to the Marin six yard line. On a second and goal situation Scribner pitched out to his left, but no Hornet! Wildcat Hassett played "heads up" ball. Rather than fall on the free leather, he sensed his opportunity, snagged it and took off for Novato territory for all he was worth, and got down to the Hornet 27 before he was knocked out of bonds as he looked for a teammate to receive a lateral. In four plays the Catholics could get only as far as the 19, where Novato took over. But then, after moving all the way to the Marin 35 on 15 and 9 yard runs by McCormick, fumbled and tackle Tom Moran of the Wildcats recovered. Moore called four plays, all of which were incomplete.

Novato's first score came in the last two minutes of the quarter after Bond brought the ball from the Marin 46 to the 27 on a left end sweep, and Scribner threw a pass to end Ron Heidinger. He rumbled like a bear to the three from where McCormick drove over on the next play for the TD. John Cook's tape-measured kick was wide. Cook had so much apparatus and extra equipment on him for the tilt, he resembled a poor man's astronaut.

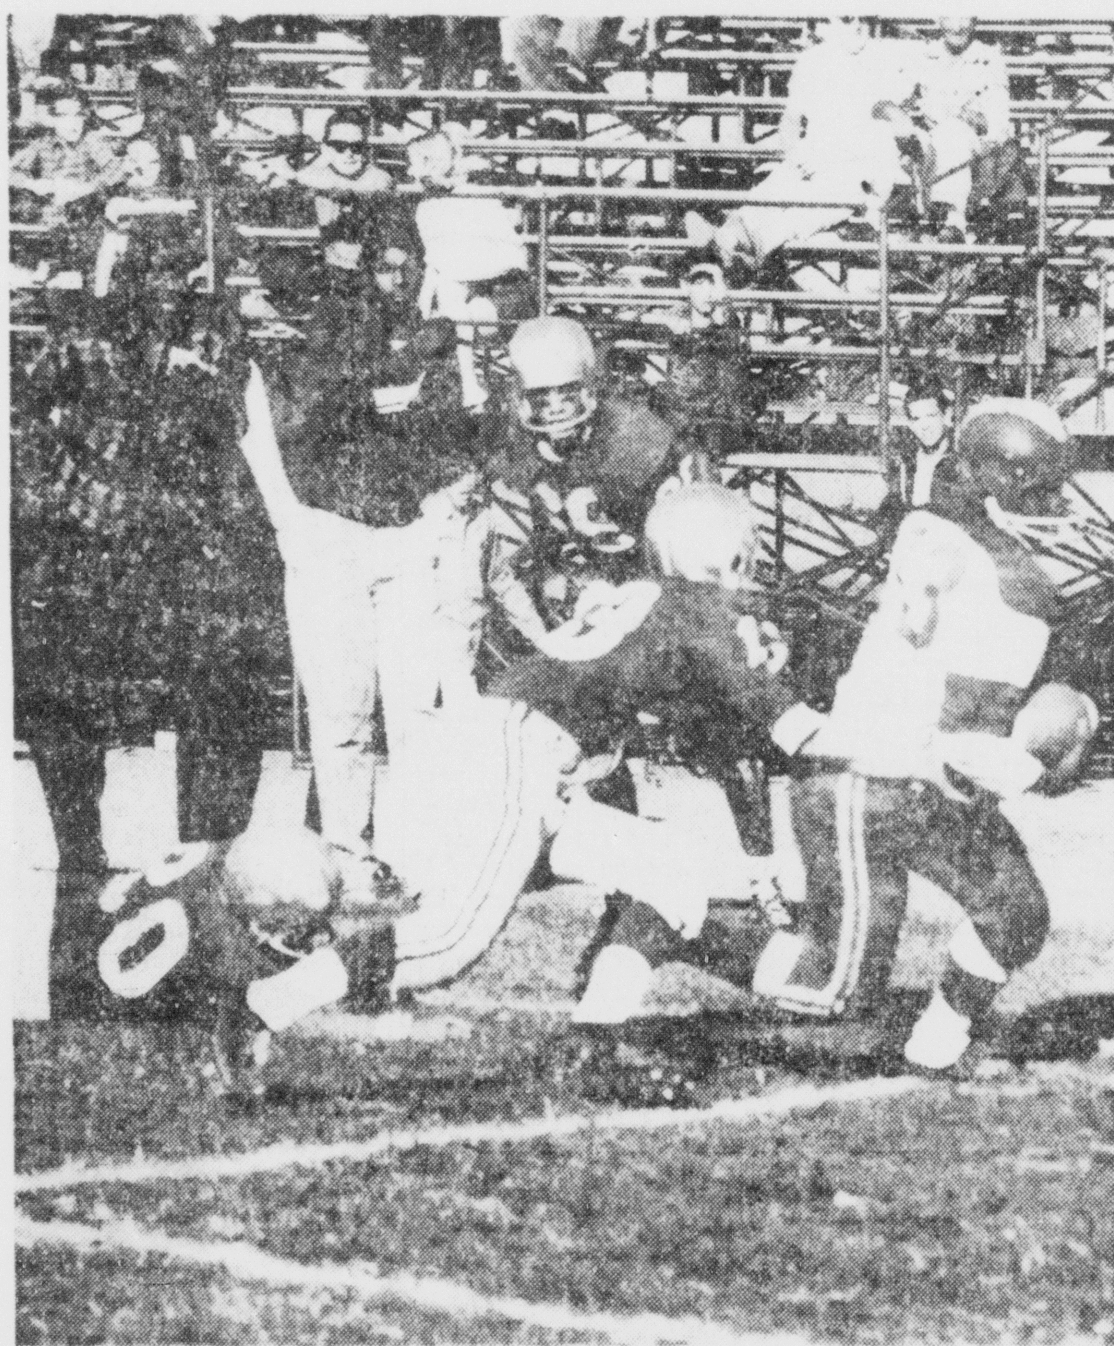

Novato scored three times in the next period. The first march began at Novato's 40. Heidinger caught a 38 yard pass from Scribner. McCormick a 13-yarder, and then Heidinger a 24 yarder to score with eight minutes left in the half. Cook's conversion kick was good. The next score came with four minutes left. McCormick went across on a one-yard run that was nullified. The next play Scribner ran it in from the six. Cook's kick was no good. The final touchdown of the first half was by reserve quarterback Tom Murphy, who danced his way in behind a moving Hornet wall that mashed its way five yards into the Marin end zone leaving the ball carrier standing up and dustless. Cook's PAT was blocked.

SCORING PASS

At the opening of the third period Marin Catholic had its longest stint with the ball, but in 10 plays moved only 25 yards and gave up the ball on a third down punt from mid-field.

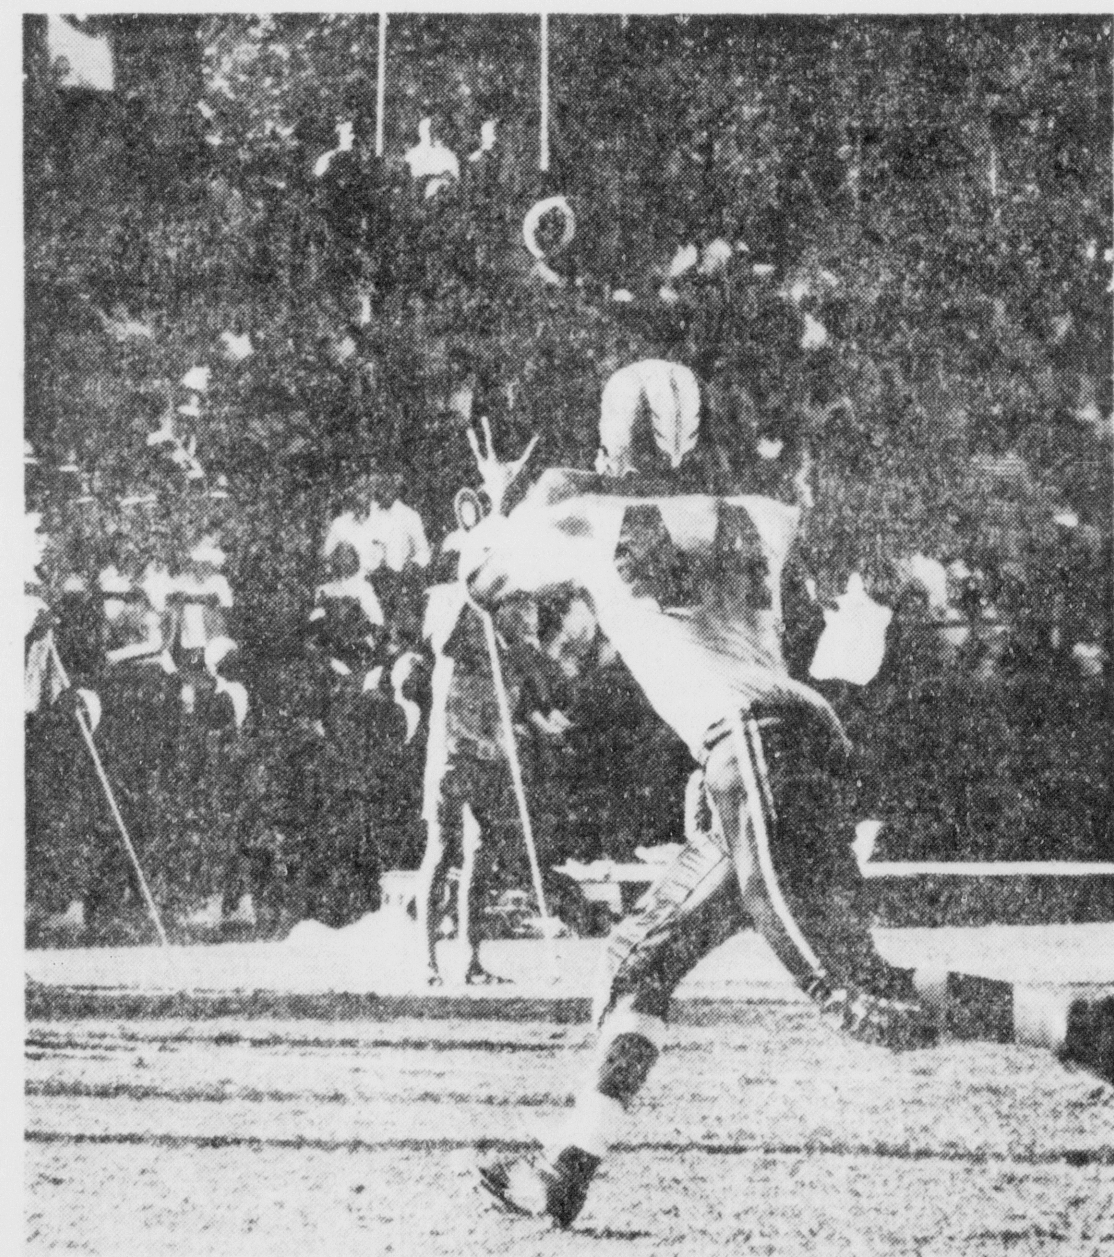

Novato's second offensive unit was then pushed from its own 40 to the 26 where the Catholics blocked a fourth down punt and took over first and ten on the Novato nine.

ANOTHER NULLIFIED TD—Rich Hamilton (with ball) of Tamalpais High swings over for a score called back on a penalty late in the second period. Tam dominated the afternoon and the sun went down on Redwood with the score-board reading 17-7. Tam. (Independent-Journal photos by Dick Steinheimer)

TOUCHDOWN PASS—Warren Domino (44) of Tamalpais pulls in a long pass in the first half for the Indians first score against defending Marin County Athletic League champions Redwood. Those are Giant rooters watching Domino's reception, obviously.

Tam Defense Great In 17-7 Win Over Redwood Gridders

A tenacious defense spearheaded Tamalpais to a convincing 17-7 win over Redwood in a Marin County Athletic League contest at Kentfield Saturday.

The victorious Indians were so dominating that they accounted for two safeties and allowed Redwood only one first down throughout the game. Also the Giant offense gained only 24 net yards and couldn't penetrate into Tam's territory at all, while the Indians stayed on the ground almost exclusively in the second half and made wide openings for their speedy backs.

The Indians' victory, their second straight league win, moved them into third place and placed them one game behind Drake, next week's opponent.

GIANTS SCORE

Redwood got its only score midway in the first quarter on a bad break by Tam. After the Giants failed to move the ball on their first series of downs, a Randy Baugh punt sailed to Tam's 24. Warren Domino picked up six, but the next play was nullified by a 15-yard penalty and the Indians were back on their 11.

Quarterback Jack Martin tried on the second down play to pass, but on dropping back into the slot, fumbled when guard Mark Pearce smacked him and the loose ball was picked up by Doug Houston for a five yard run to a TD. The conversion try by Charley "Chico" Caldwell was good for a 7-0 lead.

Tamalpais equalized the touchdown count in the last three minutes of the first half. Both teams failed to move the ball throughout the second quarter and a tremendous 45-yard punt by Jack Martin put Redwood on its own five. The Giants lost another two and a half yards when they took too much time, and, after Keith Norton gained nothing, Baugh punted only 21 yards to the 23.

TD PASS

Domino moved for three and Tamalpais then went to the air for the third time in the half with Tex Hamilton at the controls. Little Tex ran right and found Domino, his short man, free and a quick pass plus a nifty run put the Indians within one point at halftime.

The third quarter was all Tam, as the defense scored a safety and allowed the Giants only 11 plays. The Indians started the longest drive of the game from their 38 and moved the ball on runs by Domino, Chuck Muziers and Paul Ferren down to Redwood's 25 where Martin had to punt the ball out on the eight yard line.

Redwood tried to move with Steve Solinsky gaining one, but little Dave Cox then rolled right and was tackled in the end zone by linebacker Curtis Davis for the two points and the 8-7 Tam lead.

SECOND SAFETY

Another safety was added to Tam's point total early in the last quarter. Another Marin punt put Redwood on its 21 from where the Giants could only gain four yards. Baugh was sent in to punt, but a low pass from center bounced over his head and he fell on it in the end zone with Tam's Jim Durbin on top of him.

After Redwood kicked-off for only 27 yards, Ferren moved five and T. Hamilton another two to the 40. Reserve halfback Ruben Moten then sliced 17 yards to the 23 where Erv White ran the right end for the clincher TD.

The Indians really had the bad breaks after their first touchdown or the score could have been higher. After Tam had scored in the second quarter Jim Troppmann's pass on the next series of plays was intercepted by Elmer Collett on the Giant 16. From there T. Hamilton moved around right end for eight and then passed to Ferren for a touchdown that was called back by a holding penalty.

The drive started again on the 23 when Hamilton found Brian Laurie clear for the score, but another penalty for offsidess ended that drive.

Tam coach Jim Hanretty was very pleased with the win, his first over Redwood since the latter started playing football four years ago. Hanretty praised the defense, calling it the "best performance of the year." For losing coach Bob Troppmann, the consolation was the fine defensive work of Steve Minutoli, a sophomore, and Houston a rugged 175 pound defensive end.

Hanretty also revealed that the team had decided to give the game ball to Steve Long, a fine end who is in the hospital with mononucleosis.

UCLA's Smith Is AP 'Back Of Week'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—UCLA tailback Bobby Smith, who scored 23 points against California in a 35-15 victory, was named the Big Five Back of the Week today.

Smith rushed for 177 yards, passed for 13 and intercepted a pass, returning it 25 yards to set up a touchdown Saturday.

GO GET 'UM INDIANS—Tamalpais rooters cheer on their successful football team Saturday in the rivalry game with Redwood. Indian coach Jim Hanretty said his "boys were hungry" for a victory and Saturday they were fed.

WARNER FOOTBALL

Redwood Romps To North Cal Title

The Redwood Junior Giants grabbed their third straight Northern Division Pop Warner Football Conference title yesterday by easily defeating Sebastopol.

Last week the Giants captured their third successive Marin County Pop Warner crown.

The members of the Redwood Junior Giants held a meeting in the locker room before the game yesterday and vowed they would win the game for the late Mrs. Pop Warner who died Friday. They kept their word as they roared over a game and determined group of boys from Sebastopol 45-12.

Redwood hit the scoreboard early in the game when half-back Pete Brica ran eight yards on a reverse. Fullback Tony Sather kicked the PAT. Halfback Danny Salata dropped back and heaved a 64-yard scoring aerial to Sather to give the Giants a quick 13-0 lead. Late in the second quarter Sather romped up the middle for 55 yards and the Giants' next score, giving them a 25-6 half-time score.

In the third quarter Salata romped 40 yards for a Giant score with Sather making the PAT.

In the fourth period Salata ran around his own right end and behind a key block by quarterback Vic Saulienas romped 80 yards for the TD.

The Giants' final count came on a 65-yard pass from Salata to Sather. The PAT was run by Sather.

TERRA LINDA 7, WILLITS 6

Willits Lions roared to a quick 6-0 lead over the Terra Linda Trojans in the first quarter of their game at Kentfield yesterday, only to have a determined Trojan team fight back in the second half to take a 7-6 lead.

Trojan scoring came when Dennis Cooney passed 40 yards to Everett Fritz for the TD. Dick Burling ran the PAT.

The Trojans were led by their outstanding backfield star Tom Jenkins who gained big yardage up the middle of the Willits line.

M.V. 19, PETALUMA 19

Mill Valley took a quick lead at Petaluma when they drove 70 yards the first time they got the ball, with quarterback Scott Harrison passing to Morrison Smith for 20 yards and the score. The same thing occurred in the second quarter when Harrison passed to Jim Tupper for 35 yards and a TD.

The Petaluma Chicks started the ball rolling with an ex-Mill Valley resident, Joe Wong, playing halfback for the Chicks. He romped 5 yards for one score and then took a punt and ran 55 yards for the second score making it 12-12 at halftime.

In the third quarter Mill Val-

Novato Victory Clinches Tie For MCAL Title

Novato forced Marin back to the 19 in three plays. From there Frank Ubhaus connected with Paul Kruger in the end zone for the score to break the potential shutout. Jones threw another to Kruger for the PAT.

Novato stacked up its 32nd point with eight minutes to play in the game. After a seven-play advance from the Marin 37, it came on a three-yard plunge through right guard by Bond. Cook's PAT attempt was good.

Marin held the ball for three subsequent plays until Hornet Scribner intercepted a pass by Wildcat Wilsey on the Marin 45. Halfback John Miller in long running plays brought the ball to the 17, and Green in three more plays scored through right guard from three yards out. Cook's PAT was good.

Ubhaus set up and then helped make the Catholics' second and the game's final TD in the last two minutes of the fourth quarter. He went through his own right side on a sucker reverse play for 36 yards to the Hornet 12. From there he sailed an aerial to Kruger in the end zone. The conversion play was no less fun to watch. Wilsey started a left-end sweep, got to the side lines, and as he was hit deftly flipped a lateral to halfback Wally Lourdeaux who went in for the extra point.

Next Friday night Novato faces the San Rafael Bulldogs in the latter's pit for the undefeated 1961 MCAL title.

49ers Now Need A Miracle, But They Learned A Lesson Yesterday

Barring some kind of a miracle, neither the San Francisco 49ers nor the Detroit Lions are going anywhere in the National Football League race this year. But if you paid your money to see the game at Kezar Stadium yesterday, you darn well got your money's worth.

The final 20-20 tie was almost as bad as a loss for both teams, even though both the Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers were losing. Wins are backs around the corners. If nothing else, I hope the San Francisco fans taught themselves a lesson in good manners yesterday. Brodie was booed unmercifully and unjustly by disappointed fans when he could not get the 49er offense rolling. It is to the everlasting credit of the players themselves that they applauded Brodie while the fans were booing.

AND it was Brodie himself who finally shoved the boos back into the throats that issued them when he picked the 49ers up in the final seconds and engineered a tie out of a lost ball game.

San Francisco may fancy itself as "the Brooklyn of the West." It would be more fitting if that title were left to our Los Angeles neighbors to the south.

Coach Red Hickey learned something new yesterday. After using John Brodie at tailback for the first half, he went back to the triple-barreled shotgun for the final half. But not on a fixed rotation this time. Bill Kilmer and Bobby Waters were sent in to relieve Brodie where Hickey thought they would do the most good. And he almost pulled out the victory.

NOW THAT all the votes are in, we think the shotgun offense is here to stay. But it is going to take some clever signal calling to keep the good rushing defense out of the 49er backfield, and to keep the line-backers honest. Also, some way must be devised to get the 49er

Bruins Still Face Two Tough Hurdles In Rose Bowl Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's Bruins stand alone in the top spot of the Big Five today but still face two tough hurdles in their race for the Rose Bowl bid.

Tailback Bobby Smith scored 23 points for the Bruins as they whipped California 35-15 in a game punctuated near the end by a free-for-all among the players.

Washington and Southern California, the clubs UCLA still must face, battled each other to a 0-0 standoff at Seattle. So while UCLA is 2-0 in the Big Five, USC now stands 1-0-1 and Washington 1-1-1.

In other West Coast games, Oregon's Mel Renfro spearheaded a 19-7 victory over Stanford, Oregon State beat Washington State 14-6, University of the Pacific walloped Idaho 27-2 and San Jose State scored its fourth straight upset over Arizona State University 32-26.

This week's slate opens Friday night in Los Angeles when UCLA hosts Texas Christian. The only Big Five game pits Stanford (0-2) at Southern California. California hosts the Air Force Academy, Oregon State plays at Washington, Oregon at Washington State and San Jose State at Pacific.

UCLA's tailback duo of Smith and Mike Haffner ran California ragged. Smith gained 177 yards rushing and Haffner 119 although the Bruins again showed weak passing with only four completions in 11 attempts. But one went for the Bruins' first aerial touchdown of the season, a nine-yard pitch from Haffner to Don Vena.

Sophomore halfback Alan Nelson sprinted 70 yards for a California touchdown in the day's feature for the Bears.

At Seattle, Washington quarterback Kermit Jorgensen galloped 50 yards and crossed the goal only to have the touchdown nullified by a penalty. Both the Huskies and USC missed a field goal and each fumbled the ball away twice.

Oregon's Renfro, out five weeks with a foot injury, played less than 10 minutes against Stanford. Yet he ran four yards for a touchdown the first time he touched the ball, passed 39 for another tally and sprinted 94 yards to score with a kickoff.

Reserve quarterback Dave Bonillas came off the San Jose bench to replace the injured Chon Gallegas and fired a 10-yard touchdown pass with nine seconds remaining to give the Spartans their 32-26 victory over Arizona State. The see-saw battle saw San Jose grab a 14-0 lead but trail 26-20 before knotting the count with three minutes and 26 seconds remaining.

Aaron Youngblood scored the first two Pacific touchdowns at Idaho on a five-yard pass from Bob Vander Wall and a four-yard run. That gave the Tigers a 14-0 first quarter lead and the outcome never was in doubt.

Gives Jim Ferrier

Almaden Golf Win

SAN JOSE (AP)—Jim Ferrier's final-round 72 gave him a 72-hole total of 279 and victory yesterday in the $10,000 Almaden open golf tournament.

The 1947 PGA champ's score, good for top prize money of $1,200, was nine strokes under par and a tournament record. The previous mark was 281, set by Ken Venturi in 1959 and tied last year by Charley Sifford and Bill Eggers.

Bob Rosburg, another former PGA champ, took second-place money of $1,000 with a 280 total.

DEMOCRAT WINS—State Sen. Henry B. Gonzales and his wife (foreground) are surrounded by cheering admirers after he won a special Texas congressional election Saturday. He has gone to New York and New Jersey to campaign for Democrats there. (AP Wirephoto)

N.Y., New Jersey Vote Tomorrow; Liberal Wins Texas Congress Seat

By JACK BELL
NEW YORK (AP)—Democrats are rated an odds-on choice in one of two major political contests but in the other race Republicans sharply discount a Democratic claim of an upset in the making.

The outcome, in New York City where the Democrats are given the edge and in New Jersey where they contend they are forging uphill, likely will have a bearing on 1962 and 1964 national races. The elections are tomorrow.

The Democrats go into the final day of campaigning with some degree of encouragement from a weekend victory in Texas over the sort of GOP conservatism represented by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Henry B. Gonzales, a liberal Democrat who won a special congressional race from Republican John Goode Jr. in San Antonio, Tex., Saturday flew to New York to help Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner's bid for re-election. Gonzales planned appeals to Spanish-speaking voters.

There was not much indication that Wagner needed Gonzales' efforts to win over Republican State Atty. Louis J. Lefkowitz and City Comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa, a Democrat running as an independent.

Gonzales had said he hoped to campaign also in New Jersey for Democrat Richard J. Hughes in his contest with Republican James P. Mitchell for the governorship. But New Jersey Democratic leaders didn't show much enthusiasm for this idea. Hughes has canceled his remaining campaign appearances in view of the death of his 85-year-old father yesterday.

President John F. Kennedy, former President Harry S. Truman and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower all have had a hand in the New York City and New Jersey contests. Kennedy gave a long-distance endorsement to Gonzales and Eisenhower campaigned personally in Texas for Goode.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson got into the act with what some regarded as a pitch to help position himself for a possible 1968 bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. He did some on-the-ground campaigning for Gonzales.

Johnson, who has endeavored in recent months to erase his segregationist voting record as a senator from Texas, pleaded for the election of Gonzales, San Antonio native of Mexican-born parents, as proof that "a man can be elected to the U.S. Congress despite his race." Rep. D. S. Saund, (D-Calif.), a native of India, and Sen. Hiram L. Fong (R-Hawaii) an Oriental, seemed to have proved that point previously.

Goode, who ran as an ultra conservative of the Goldwater school, said he was "shocked to hear my vice president inject the racial and national origin issues into a campaign in which they were not originally issues."

Unlike Sen. John G. Tower, first Republican senator elected in Texas since Reconstruction days, Goode suffered from a paucity of Democratic opponents. Goode had only a handful running against him, Tower more than 70.

Kennedy could claim something of a victory in the election of Gonzales, a liberal Democrat of the stripe Johnson was not accustomed to associating himself with in Texas.

The president seemed likely to field a left-handed victory if Wagner wins re-election in New York City, as now expected. This would tend to simplify Kennedy's problems in dealing with the divided Democrats of the state.

In 1964 he would have to look to Wagner to reorganize the party and to supply him with New York's 45 electoral votes, without which Kennedy could not have won the presidency in 1960.

Michael Prendergast, the Democratic state chairman, and Carmine V. DeSapio, the party's national committeeman, seemed to have become candidates for oblivion—if Wagner wins—with their opposition to the mayor.

Lefkowitz was given only an outside chance to nose out Wagner.

In New Jersey, supporters of Hughes were predicting that candidate would win by a whisker.

City Voters Will Go To Polls Tomorrow

San Franciscans tomorrow will elect five city-county supervisors, a city attorney, city treasurer, four municipal court judges, and two board of education members.

They also will decide the fate of three bond issues, a declaration of city policy, and five charter changes.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Registrar of Voters Charles Rogers has forecast a turnout of 231,000—64 per cent of the 361,000 registered voters.

Biggest scramble is for the board of supervisors, with 33 candidates for the five positions to be filled on the 11-member board.

Three incumbents seek re-election: William C. Blake (brother of Robert E. Blake of San Rafael), Peter Tamaras and Joseph Tinney.

Others in the field are Roger Boas, George W. Johns, Charles Marsall, Jack Morrison, Alan H. Nichols, Warren Sullivan, John Abraham, Archie Brown, Donald J. Bruce, Jim Coventry, Thomas H. Curtin, A. F. Gaynor, Edwin J. Greenough, Warren Hinckle, W. Harry Johns, Robert O. Jones, W. H. Lambers, Ernest Lott, Joseph John Migliozi, L. Patrick O'Brien, Thomas P. O'Toole, Hayden Perry, Al J. Quinn, Jose Julio Sarria, Donald J. Sullivan, John L. Sullivan, Harold Treskunoff, Robert Vanderbilt, Charles D. Walker, and Dina Franchi Zickel.

In contrast to the wide-open supervisors' race, City Treasurer John J. Goodwin is unopposed. J. J. Sullivan (stepping out as a supervisor) is opposing former Deputy City Atty. Thomas M. O'Connor for city attorney.

Judges and board of education members are unopposed, the election being merely to confirm their appointments.

A $115-million-dollar water bond issue is up for approval, requiring a two-thirds "yes" vote, as would a million-dollar issue for purchase of surplus Fort Funston land, and a $3,200,000 bond issue for a new public welfare building.

Up for decision is a policy is city purchase of the Fox Theater — which would entail an outlay estimated at $1,150,000.

Charter changes deal with the library board, chief administrative officer, city employees' health benefits, hearing officers, and replacement of clothing, etc., of city workers damaged in line of duty.

Fairfax School Board Meeting

Reading in elementary schools is on the agenda of the Fairfax School District board meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the Manor School multi-use room.

There will be reports on the philosophy of the public schools, the reading process, the role of the kindergarten in the reading program, the primary reading program, and the intermediate reading program.

Supt. Homer L. Sisk will give a report on the evaluation of the reading program.

Marin Highway Tax Share Is $62,929

Marin County's share of highway users taxes distributed in October was $62,929, State Controller Alan Cranston announced today.

The total distribution for the state for all purposes was $32,563,237, of which $21,609,715 went to the state highway fund for expenditure on highways. The counties received $7,880,373 and the cities $3,073,169.

Anti-Bircher Publisher Wins Award

SANTA BARBARA (UPI)—Thomas M. Storke, editor and publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, was presented the Lauterbach Award last night for outstanding work in defense of civil liberties.

Storke was honored for his editorials criticizing the conservative John Birch Society.

Storke, 85 and a veteran of 61 years in the newspaper field, told a dinner at which he received the award that Robert Welch, founder of the Birch Society, drew a "Blueprint for a scheme to breakdown some of the principles of human liberties" in his book, "The Politician."

"Here was character assassination at its worst, aimed at some of our distinguished presidents and other honored patriotic leaders of our government," Storke said in reference to the book.

"Today, the responsible citizen, and especially the responsible editor, must stand up and fight against an attack on the rights and liberties of Americans. But we must fight with persuasion and principle—not with violence," Storke said.

He said he could remember the days of the vigilantes and how the men of his father's day in the West of the 80s and 90s would have treated such character assassins.

"They would have been tar and feathers and the threat of hangman's rope," Storke said.

"Vigilantism in its early form was a drastic emergency remedy for a desperate illness in our society... but today some groups still resort to the lawless tactics of the gangster-vigilantes."

Several Hurt In Auto Wrecks Over Weekend

A 17-month-old girl escaped with multiple bruises when she was thrown from her mother's automobile in a two-car collision at Fourth and B Streets in San Rafael last night.

Anna Marie Barone fell out the right front door of a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Vickie Barone of Woodacre, which collided with an auto driven by Judy Ann Wilder, 18, of 2162 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Miss Wilder suffered a bruise on the right hand. She and the baby were treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

San Rafael police said Miss Wilder, southbound on B Street, stopped at the intersection for a flashing red light, then seeing, no westbound traffic, started to drive through. Mrs. Barone was eastbound on Fourth Street.

Two San Anselmo youths were treated for minor injuries at Marin General Hospital Saturday night after their car struck a rail of a bridge on the Petaluma-Point Reyes Station road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Adelbert L. Smith, 19, of 50 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, driver of the 1932 Ford coupe, suffered multiple scalp and wrist cuts. Douglas Meyer, 19, of 52 Grove Lane, San Anselmo, suffered abrasions to both shins. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital.

A Marin County deputy sheriff's car couldn't dodge the spinning vehicle of a Tiburon waiter early today and the officer suffered cuts and bruises.

Joseph Tatton of San Francisco, waiter at the Dock restaurant on Tiburon's Main Street, finished his night's work shortly after midnight and started home.

On Tiburon Boulevard just east of the Hilarita housing project at 1:25 a.m. his car went off the highway shoulder and into a spin which carried it across the road. It hit an eastbound county car driven by Dep. Sheriff Joseph E. Mooney of 54 West Crescent Drive, San Rafael.

Mooney was treated at Marin General Hospital after complaining of pains in shoulder, hip and knee.

Tatton was cited for failure to drive on the right and for striking another vehicle.

Louis Barilani, 26, Cloverdale truck driver, was examined at Marin General Hospital early yesterday for a back sprain after his car was hit on the southern end of the Golden Gate Bridge by a car driven by Donald A. Cooper, 28, bartender at 8 Alta Way, Corte Madera. Both cars were heading north.

A RUSH OF LOVE AND SHE'S IN YOUR ARMS

A MOMENT THAT MAKES YOU STOP AND THINK...

Is my family adequately provided for, if anything happens to me?

Will they always have the home they love?

Could we handle an emergency?

Have we made sure our children can go to college?

Will my wife and I be independent in our later years?

How 5 unique advantages of life insurance help answer these questions... bringing peace of mind at the stroke of a pen

- 1 BY GUARANTEEING FAMILY PROTECTION. Life insurance lets a man protect his family right from the start. For life insurance guarantees, at the stroke of a pen, a sum of money far greater than most couples could save in many years.
- 2 BY SAFEGUARDING YOUR HOME. With life insurance, a man can safeguard the home his family loves by owning a policy which takes care of any unpaid mortgage.
- 3 BY PROVIDING A GUARANTEED FUND FOR EMERGENCIES. You know, in advance, exactly how much money will be available in your life insurance at any given time. Secure in this knowledge, you are better prepared to face emergencies.
- 4 BY ASSURING FUNDS FOR COLLEGE. By figuring in advance what it will cost to give your children a college education, you can make sure—through life insurance—that college expenses can be met.
- 5 BY GUARANTEEING A STEADY RETIREMENT INCOME. A husband and wife can get more pleasure from their later years when they plan their life insurance to provide a steady income guaranteed to last for both their lifetimes.

The wise family head estimates his family's future needs, then plans his life insurance accordingly. Since family circumstances change, many couples review their program with their life insurance agent regularly. In this way, they get the most from their life insurance.

Lynne Arden Weds Dion Marcus Chesse

In a 4:30 o'clock ceremony in Danville on Sunday, Barbara Lynne Arden of Sausalito became the bride of Dion Marcus Chesse of San Francisco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Meredith of Ross. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chesse of San Francisco.

Monsieur Michele Vallon of the Congregational Church in Danville was the officiating minister.

JoAnn Meredith was maid of honor for her sister. Best man was Eugene Maddy. The bride was graduated from Tamalpais High School and the University of California. She is active with the Sausalito Little Theater.

Femineers Plan Ball On Nov. 16

Under the direction of Mrs. Robert Lawson, chairman, Mrs. J. Barry Cooke and Mrs. William Enkeboll will form table decorations befitting the theme of the Femineers "Golden Fleece" scholarship benefit Nov. 16.

Invitations reading bid members and their friends to an evening of dinner and dancing at the Peninsula Golf and Country Club in San Mateo. The Gold Ballroom will be transformed into a setting for this year's theme, "Cinderella's Ball." Highlight of the dinner will be a fur fashion show with members of the Femineers as models.

The Femineers donate a yearly scholarship to a civil engineering student at the University of California.

Sausalito Cook Book Tea Is Set

St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Church, Episcopal, in Sausalito will give a tea Nov. 15 from 2 to 6 p.m. to launch the third printing of its "Sausalito Cook Book."

Open to the public, the tea will be held at the Sausalito home of Kenneth Logan, 127 San Carlos Avenue.

The cook book compiled by St. Brigid's Guild in 1957, is being re-issued by popular demand and will be sold during the tea. The spiral-bound book contains favorite recipes of Sausalito hostesses.

The red cover of this year's edition makes it a natural for Christmas giving and repeats the drawing of Sausalito's old ferry slip by Leonard S. Wood.

Chairman for the tea is Mrs. Leonard E. Blakely, assisted by Mesdames James F. McIndoe and Victor H. Wollman, hostesses; Frank T. Greene and Thomas B. Wiper, floral decor; and Frank E. Rossman and Carl W. Strong.

Proceeds go toward purchase of kitchen equipment for the new parish hall.

Heiress Judy Firestone Takes To The Friendly, Rural Life

By JOY MILLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Some heiresses elope with busboys. Others devote their lives to high society. Judy Firestone rides horses.

While the socialites cluster in grandstand boxes at the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, the granddaughter of Harvey Firestone is out in the ring showing horses or competing in riding and jumping events. And she has won quite a few championships at shows this year.

NO AIRS
Judy will probably inherit a million or so of the rubber manufacturing family's fortune, but the fact hasn't given her airs. At 22, she's friendly, direct and down to earth.

"Someday I hope to be married, and that would be nice," she says. "But I really don't have an urge to set the world on fire in any way."

She never had a coming out party because she didn't want one. She buys her clothes in Akron, O., shops; she went abroad for a second time this year—to accompany her father on a business trip.

But Judy is not underpriv-

West Coast Styles Guaranteed Not To Deflate Hair-Do

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

At least one designer does not underestimate the fury of a woman who cannot, despite her contortions, unzip the back of her dress.

He is Jean Louis, a Frenchman from Hollywood, who brought a bevy of beautiful models and boxes of new fashion ideas for the debut of his spring collection here today.

One such idea was the "step-in" tunic dress with a panel of buttons marching down the front far enough for easy entry, feet first, eliminating the need for zippers.

ZIPPERLESS

Jean Louis' coat-dress is another zipperless style which not only preserves sacroiliacs. It is guaranteed not to deflate those bouffant hairdos which Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy did so much to make popular.

Although it buttons down the front like a coat, the style resemblance ends there. Like other so-called coat dresses introduced at this spring market, the West Coast couturier's are too fitted and belted to be anything else but a dress.

As the show hurried on, the wardrobe progressed from mannish suits with bowler hats; to coats narrow at the shoulder and flared wide from the fitted bosom to floral pastel costume suits; to sultry black crepe cocktail dresses draped in back; and finally to chiffon and beaded formal-wear.

IN RETREAT

Except for those step-in dresses, most of Louis' styling was in retreat. The West Coast couturier obviously appreciates a tanned back, for some backs are scooped so low and wide they nearly eliminate the back bodice of the dress altogether.

Another Franco-American from the East Coast, Jacques Tiffreau, introduced the Obi silhouette during the Montecarlo spring show. Being much closer to the Orient geographically, it was only fitting that Jean Louis should go one better with the Kabuki costume.

Those loose, slit sleeves of the Japanese kimono are in Louis' daytime dresses, theater suits, floating chiffon, rustling satin, and even sober black floor-length dinner gowns.

SHOWY LOOK

Although other American designers seem to have deserted ostrich feathers as well as clinking crystals, blinding beads, shimmering sequins, Jean Louis with a Hollywood following could hardly eliminate the showy costumes.

And to prove how well Jean Louis does at dramatizing a not-exactly-young figure, a grandmother modeled a glittering serpentine floor length gown, trailing a stole of twinkling silver sequins behind her. The crowd applauded wildly.

The model was Marlene Dietrich.

Silent Auction, Boutique Planning In Sleepy Hollow

The Women's Auxiliary of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. will hold a pre-holiday silent auction and boutique bazaar Thursday at the clubhouse in San Anselmo. Hours are 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Members and friends have contributed handmade articles,

Christmas decorations, home and personal accessories. New gifts have been donated and these, as well as surprise "post-office" packages, will be included in the merchandise for auction.

Bulk of proceeds will be applied to the purchase of civil defense medical supplies for the Hollow.

The event is being headed by Mrs. Kenneth Waegner, and Mrs. Pat Penhallow. Holiday boughs, baskets, trees, delicate aprons and other merchandise have been hand-fashioned by Mesdames Burton Milnes, Rick Young, John Sibbal, George Miller, Henry Mullen, Sayles Turney, Jack Scott and Fred Diercks under the supervision of Mrs. Etienne Rolin.

TWEED APPROACH

Tweed takes a soft and feminine approach to spring in an easy ensemble from the Tiffreau-Busch collection. Artful drapery is featured in the three-part costume of black and white English tweed jersey. A soft-shouldered cardigan, which stops short below the waist tops a demi-fit, cowl-draped overblouse and a one-seam skirt with front gathers. (UPI Telephoto)

MAKE YOUR OWN MAGIC!

... and with a little help you can make magic with your appearance. Like everything else there are tricks to the trade. That's why Drake Pharmacy offers the services of Miss Thelma Anderson, beauty consultant.

Mirrors can't speak... and what you see there is often misinterpreted. Miss Anderson, as an unbiased observer, can see the good points that are overlooked in critical mirror-survey. It's the good points (and everyone has them) that need attention. A little coloring here... and accentuation there... and the magic is accomplished.

Miss Anderson can help you select just the right cosmetics. This eliminates time-taking experimentation — and certainly is more economical.

More than 65% of the women consulting Miss Anderson needed nothing more than the right scent to suit their personality — or a new shade in lipstick to enhance their natural coloring. Miss Anderson's time is without obligation — it's a Drake Pharmacy service.

Drake Pharmacy cosmetic department offers a greater selection so that you never need settle for "next-best."

Hair Clips Can Come In Handy For Patterns And In Hemming

By EUNICE FARMER

A tailor trix pressing board is being awarded to Mrs. Eleanor G. Wylie, Plymouth, Mich., for this suggestion:

Bring your hair clips to the sewing room.

1. Clip your pattern together to avoid losing the pieces.

2. Clip the hem in your dresses, both to mark it and to eliminate much basting.

3. Clip unused pattern pieces to the curtain to prevent loss or tearing.

4. Clip the instruction sheet to the curtain or drape near your sewing machine for easy reference.

These are only a few of the many ways clips may be used to serve the seamstress.

"How can I make my husband's shirts less boxy. His size is large, but the shirts I buy seem to have less material below the armpits. For what purpose are the side seams left open at the bottom?"

Mrs. N. W.

Dear Mrs. N. W.: You may take some of the extra fullness out of your husband's shirts before cutting them. Measure the pattern against a shirt that fits him.

Now fold your pattern in a vertical fold from the lower edge of the shirt tapering to nothing slightly above the underarm seam. The width of this fold would be determined by the amount of excess fabric you will have.

The lower side of the side seams are left open to avoid any tightness for pulling of the shirt. This room for ease is necessary because one size must fit many men.

"What takes tracing paper marks out of white lace?" The tracing paper marks went through the lace and show on the right side." Mrs. R. L. H.

Dear Mrs. R. L. H.

This is one of the hazards of using a sewing aid that can't be used on all fabrics. I would suggest you consult a professional cleaner to see if they can remove these marks. If not, write to the company who made the tracing paper and see if they can help you. Actually, I don't believe in using a tracing wheel on any fine fabrics because there is always the chance that something like this might happen.

"I have seen and heard the words 'Irene Pleat' and wonder what this means?" Mrs. J. A. S.

Dear Mrs. J. A. S.

This is a term used to describe a long slit opening at the hem of a skirt that takes the place of a pleat and was originated by the designer "Irene."

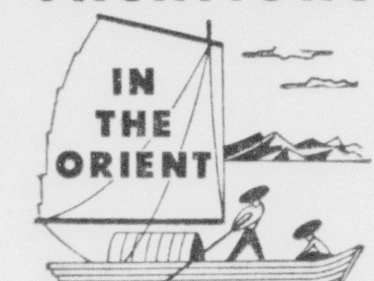

This type of skirt opening is usually found only in expensive ready-made clothes, but can be made easily and your skirts will always have a flat smooth look.

1. The opening or "slit" at the hemline of the skirt can be almost any length, but it is usually about 6 inches deep.

Allow an extra 2 inches plus your 5/8 inch seam allowance at the center back of skirt when cutting. This extra fabric will give the opening enough body to allow it to hang even. You may finish the raw edges with seam tape as

How Food Products Will Be Changed

Fourth of five articles on the foods of the future, from the research laboratory to the dinner table.

By BARBARA HOSMER

In few areas has the consumer so eagerly welcomed change as in the food marketing area in recent years. The grocers' shelves today are crammed with products that were recently lab experiments—instant potato flakes, boil-in-a-bag frozen foods and the like. Your vegetables come in plastic wrappers that "breathe" in needed air for freshness and cheese comes in wrappers that breathe out unwanted moisture.

"As this revolutionary trend in food buying and consumption habits continues it gets more difficult to predict," says Harold W. Comfort, president of one of the nation's largest dairy food companies.

Mr. Comfort has pointed out that food industry personnel do not all agree on predictions of what's ahead for our dinner table, but he does outline some areas of fair agreement.

Presenting a consensus of many opinions from the food industry, he says, to expect more tenderized meats, as today's least popular cuts are made as succulent as prime beef by injections of an enzyme into cattle just before slaughter.

Look for plumper, more meaty fowl produced by improved breeding and feeding techniques.

KEEPING QUALITIES

Also irradiated sterilized foods. This means extended keeping qualities for foods without loss of original characteristics—several months' supply of hamburger that can be kept at the back of the refrigerator without being frozen, for instance.

Comfort also predicted an upsurge in freeze-dried foods. He says, "This is a process that joins the best of freezing and dehydration. The resulting product is claimed to have the compactness and keeping qualities of dehydrated foods and when reconstituted, the texture, flavor and color of frozen foods."

Comfort said that housewives can expect to see on market shelves more foods packed in tubes and pressurized containers, even more emphasis on low calorie foods, more foods available in single-service units, wider distribution of regional foods, more "tailored" foods—products to meet specific needs, as about six out of ten families have at least one member on a diet, and products are being designed to meet their special requirements. Some of these have been marketed very successfully this year.

THE MEANS

He said that most economists agree that at about $7,500 income for a family, half of that income becomes available for things other than the very basic necessities, and that this half can be used for "discretionary spending." Comfort went on to state that, according to estimates, by 1970 about 25 million families, or two out of five, will have at least $7,500 yearly income, and the most rapidly expanding population group is the young adults from 20 to 34 years old.

"The married couples in this group are our best accumulators of goods, saving less and buying more than their elders," Comfort said. Attracting them—getting a larger portion of this "discretionary" dollar is what the food industry is planning by producing more gourmet foods already processed and ready to warm and serve; more specialty dishes, more attractive edibles of all kinds that go far beyond the basic meat-potato-vegetable necessities.

WISER, DISCERNING

Comfort says, "Products once within the means of only presidents and a favored few are now within easy reach of today's young voter. This is the group that will have a dominant voice in shaping tomorrow's kitchen, not because of numbers alone, but because of influence. The young adult of 1970—particularly the home-maker—will be wiser, smarter and shrewder than she is now. She will be better educated, more discerning and selective."

"In seeming paradox she will be more dependent on the opinions of others, but those opinions will have to come from reliable and authoritative sources."

"She will be quick and willing to experiment—in foods and packaging and equipment and gadgets—and equally quick to reject if dissatisfied."

So says the president of one of America's biggest dairy products firms.

"George couldn't live without his Lindsay Olives."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

A Man Who Made Public Relations Into A Science

It is rare indeed that a newspaper would feel called upon to editorialize about the death of a publicist or a political flack. But Clem Whitaker raised his profession to so nearly a science that he won for Whitaker and Baxter the respect and admiration of the press, the politician and the public.

With his wife, Leone, the Baxter half of the firm, he left newspaper life in 1930 and set up his first firm to handle political candidates. As success followed success, they branched out into other public relations fields, handling such things as a nationwide campaign by the American Medical Association, the Central Valley Project, school bonds, teachers' salaries, the affairs of private industries, and campaigns against "Ham and Eggs," the single tax and many more.

The basis of their reputation remained in the political field. They handled campaigns for governors, senators and congressmen, for assemblyman and state senators, even for lesser political posts. And they had a tremendously high percentage of victories.

Three years ago, friendly, gangling Clem and his wife devoted themselves to Whitaker and Baxter International, a public relations consulting firm and new set of their organizations. They turned Whitaker and Baxter over to their son, Clem (Scoop) Whitaker Jr., and two Marinites, James Dorais of Greenbrae and Newton Stearns of San Rafael.

From their home in Kent Woodlands, they guided the new international agency, in Washington and in foreign lands. And they went wherever in the world they hoped they could be of some help.

We'll miss Clem Whitaker. He was a good newspaperman himself and knew what newspapermen wanted and needed. He used that knowledge and his canny ability to build the first and, without doubt, the outstanding professional campaign management firm in the nation.

Our sympathy goes out to the Whitaker family.

Hamburger—All American Meat

Frankly, we think it is downright subversive to claim the hot dog is the symbolic American food. In our opinion, the hot dog must take second place to that All-American favorite, the home-made hamburger.

In the first place, the home-made hamburger is usually made from a good grade of ground beef—not so fat as the commercially sold hamburger. This is several cuts above that mating of sausage bull and retired milk cow, with spices added, which we call a hot dog.

We eat and enjoy hot dogs, but in our considered opinion they cannot compare with a juicy hamburger in a sesame seed bun with pickle, mustard and raw onion. Now there's a meal fit for a king.

Probably many Marinites are having hamburgers these November days in order to economize for the big bust at Thanksgiving. But they definitely are not suffering.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

A sports car manufacturer recently advertised that its latest model has a top speed of 150 miles per hour, the fastest ever offered the public.

The full potential of this speedy automobile may seldom, if ever, be fully used. But motorists who are power conscious feel a smug assurance in knowing that their cars are at least capable of such a fantastic speed. At the same time, such people may little realize how much more extraordinary is their own personal capacity—physical, mental and spiritual.

The doctor who said "most people are ambling along at about 5 per cent of their efficiency" expressed an astounding and hopeful fact that most of us overlook.

Within our own person each of us possesses an enormous reserve of strength, both in body and soul, that is largely untouched. Discover the hidden power for good entrusted to you by God and put it to use in a world much in need of it.

"To one He gave five talents, and to another two . . . to every one according to his proper ability."

(Matthew 25:15)

Thanks to You, O generous Father, for giving me all the talent I need to lead a worthwhile life.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

The Bedroom Is Most Dangerous Room In The Average U.S. Home

NEW YORK (P)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The most dangerous room in the average American home is the bedroom. Three-fourths of all accidental falls occur in the home and more happen in the bedroom than any other part of the house.

Do you feel crowded in a modern airplane coach? It was worse in the days of the stagecoach. A ticket then entitled you to 15 inches of seating space—and you had to pay dearly if you traveled with more than 25 pounds of luggage.

Sports oddity: If a man made a different billiard shot every second, he would have to play 24 hours a day for more than two-billion years to make all the possible shots.

What's in a name? Tula Finklea is Cyd Charisse, Aaron Chwatt is Red Buttons, Fritz Austerlitz is Fred Astaire, Jim Stewart is Stewart Granger—and Marlon Brando is really Marlon Brando.

Don't give up hope if you have a heart attack. At least half of all people who suffer a coronary thrombosis recover fully and are able to resume their normal activities.

Former President Harry Truman says he doesn't dream. But scientists think everybody dreams whether he can recall them or not on awakening. The average person spends two hours nightly dreaming. Women usually dream more than men.

Wisecrack of the week: "There are only two kinds of women—clinging vines and power plants."

NATURE NOTE: The stool pigeon is one of the world's most valuable birds. It is estimated that up to 90 per cent of felonious crimes are solved with the help of tips by police informants.

See America first: The tourist industry now is the top income producer in Florida, New Mexico, Nevada, Maryland and Hawaii. It ranks as the second or third most important industry in 25 other states.

SAFETY TIP: Here's the real reason you shouldn't drive while weary: Studies that that driver fatigue is a factor in two-thirds of all fatal accidents.

It was George D. Prentice who observed, "If a woman could talk out of the two sides of her mouth at the same time, a great deal would be said on both sides."

Realize We Must Co-Exist

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I wish to thank Mrs. Shotwell for writing, and you for publishing her letter of Oct. 31, calling our attention to the failure of the United Nations to bring about world peace.

However, I wonder if we, ourselves, should not take some of the responsibility for the "failures" that have been so disturbingly evident?

The basic philosophy and structure of the United Nations is sound and its ideal of striving for universal human rights, as opposed to individual national rights can only be applauded by the people in a world made sick with fear of the horrors of nuclear war.

The record of the major powers (ours and the others) in voting and speaking for self-interest is quite apparent. The speeches in the past few weeks since Russian bomb testing are especially transparent. Our spokesmen today are saying the same things the Soviet bloc were saying in 1957-58 regarding nuclear bomb testing bans and disarmament. The Soviets have taken the position formerly held by us.

It seems obvious that the Security Council has been and still is used for political maneuvering and propaganda for self-interest.

Four years ago the West was demanding general disarmament before considering a ban on nuclear testing. Now the positions are reversed: we are demanding a test ban before considering disarmament. Even this we cannot come out strongly for now because we must explode a few more bombs to "catch up" in the atmospheric contamination race.

We have the instrument (the U.N.) necessary for international communication and mutual responsibility for world problems. The results of the use of the instrument depend on the users. It's analogous to a walking stick which we pick up to help us climb a difficult hill or lift it up to strike our companion. I say companion because we do have a "common enemy," which is the unimaginable destruction and desolation of nuclear war.

I'm sure the possibility of the advancement of world Communism remains as long as the world remains intact, but so does Capitalism have the same opportunity. Although both sides have made declarations that the world will be saved and made free only through their chosen system, history has shown modifications on both sides and new combinations of both systems are emerging in new nations.

Let us face up to the fact that none of us are completely "free" agents but are mutually dependent, in the family, the community, the nation and now, in the world. We must co-exist and we must respect the rights of each other.

War, cold or hot, has not been and more obviously now, can never be the solution or resolution of our problems.

Let us unite with the people of the world, accept our responsibility to keep the peace by working toward understanding and respect for one another.

Let us find a way to create a truly international U.N. which will go forward to protect the rights of all human beings and preserve the children of today for a better world tomorrow.

MONTE G. STEADMAN, M.D.
Corte Madera.

Resume Testing, Strength Needed

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

Perhaps the ban-the-bomb demonstrations which have spontaneously developed simultaneously around the Bay Area would be a little more convincing were it not for the fact that SANE and SLATE are behind some of these movements.

But, overlooking SANE and SLATE and even the reports of the United States Senate and the California Legislature about these organizations—let us inquire as to what these people are endeavoring to accomplish with their demonstrations.

First, please note that they do not differentiate between the Soviets and the U.S.A. They lump together the Russians—who conned us into a three-year test moratorium while they developed their recently displayed arsenal of super bombs—and our country which has exhibited undue patience and restraint in endeavoring to work out a solution to this problem.

And then, do these people direct their indignant wrath at Khrushchev who can laugh and joke about his 50-plus megaton bombs? Oh, no—they choose to clutter up our streets and public halls protesting before the wrong people in the wrong country.

What do these crusading souls hope to accomplish? Why the answer is peace—peace at any price. How? Quite simply.

Their impassioned pleas can have no bearing on the Soviets—but it can frighten and demoralize our people in calling for a nuclear ban—and since the Russians will not hear or heed this appeal, they will say to America, "Let's disarm UNILATERALLY" and trust the benevolent Bolsheviks to respect our sportsmanship.

But, history has shown that the Soviets respect only power—and so the unpopular choices boil down to two: (1) Lay aside our weapons and invite our enslavement; or, (2) strengthen our country's defense in ever conceivable way to discourage any aggression against us.

I choose the latter—and for those of you who feel likewise—a letter to our President urging the resumption of testing to insure our safety is respectfully suggested.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Muir Beach Man Raises Thousands Of Redwoods From Smuggled Seeds

The other day we went to see the man at Muir Beach who raises Chinese redwoods from seeds smuggled out of China in 1949 and who is now receiving Red inquiries on how to raise redwoods in Russia.

We wonder if it might not be a good idea to have a tree-to-people interchange which might run second or third some day to our present people-to-people program.

Warren Anderson, a sparkling-eyed man of 67, lives in Frank's Valley with a friendly, purring black cat. He raises 50 varieties of redwood. He has a burl 500 years old. He has a tree which is the only tree which will grow 5,000 years. He has red redwoods and white redwoods and a green rose. He's fabulous.

He said "I'm so busy raising redwoods and rare plants that I don't have time to take care of my house." He has no wife. He reads books.

THE FOG had blown in and, as a buzzard circled over the nearby ridge, Anderson showed us his redwoods by flashlight.

"These are midgets," he said. "They grow one inch per year, have all white wood, never grow over 50 feet. Not all redwoods are giants."

He showed us two Chinese Dawn redwoods getting ready to shed leaves. He said "My cat has been climbing up the bark of this one."

Anderson said the tree has to be grown from cuttings. "No more seeds since 1949 when the Red army took over. Last shipment of seeds was smuggled out by Dr. Linn Gressett, roving biologist of the Academy of Sciences in San Francisco.

"NINETY-EIGHT per cent of my business is from outside California," the tree man said. He pointed his flashlight at the Giant Cryptomaria of Japan. "I've got 43 governments interested in growing redwoods," he said.

Then he showed us some flat top coast redwoods and some weeping redwoods.

"I got the first redwood to grow on the Golden Gate Bridge, the entrance to the Redwood Empire. Because of the wind, they are hard to grow there. I also have one on Treasure Island and Angel Island where it's even windier.

"The coast redwood is the world's most crazy, mixed-up tree because its heredity is so tangled." He pointed to another tree. "A Dawn redwood. It sheds at Autumn.

"Here's an Oreani from the Amazon River in Brazil. These are first from the Swiss Alps. Macadamia nut. Head Hunters' redwood from Formosa."

HE WENT INTO the house, which Anderson said is made of redwood, where he put some wood in the stove he uses for cooking and heating. He said he receives letters from all over the world from people who report on how the trees he sent them are doing.

"Can't send anything to China under the Reds. They're not progressive. They're repressive. Their Dawn redwoods are threatened with extinction, only about 1,000 left in all China.

"But I've got 6,000 Dawn redwoods growing in the states, so they won't go extinct, and a total of 35,000 redwoods in 50 states."

Anderson, once a high school principal and once an ad man, started raising redwoods in Kentfield in 1949. Thirty countries have received either seeds or small plants from him.

MUIR BEACH has a fine climate for redwoods, Anderson said. He added he is starting an Arctic garden and that "I've located the only coffee in the world without caffeine."

He said the midget redwood, Mipesequoia, has white wood and Paleosequoia redwood. The two trees crossed and produced our present Coast redwood forest, a mixture of red and white wood.

Anderson said he is to have a book published by MacMillan on redwoods as soon as he gets the last five species out of 17 ready for photographing.

On leaving, he said he enjoyed the visit, said, "Otherwise I would have been reading a book."

WALTER LIPPMANN

Time For U.S. 'Giant Step' Toward Closer Trade Program For West

WASHINGTON — In a statement issued jointly by Christian Herter and Will Clayton, and published as a Congressional document by Rep. Hale Boggs' Committee, they say that "the time has come for the United States to take a giant step."

The giant step is in the field of tariffs and trade policy, and the direction of the giant step is towards a much closer trading relationship with the non-Communist world.

The purpose of the step is to increase greatly the prosperity of the non-Communist world. The significance of the step is that it will draw together the non-Communist world into a union quite capable of confronting the Communist orbit confidently, of competing with it effectively, and of co-existing with it securely.

IT IS A GRANDIOSE undertaking. But it is not a vision in the air. The Atlantic Community has existed as an historic fact since the Spanish and the Portuguese, the French, the British, the Dutch and the Swedes, colonized North and South America some three centuries ago.

The experience of the Second World War has taught the American people that it would be an illusion to think that they can return to the isolation of the Nineteenth Century.

IT HAS BECOME unworkable with the decision of Great Britain to join the Common Market, a decision that may be one of the most momentous in modern European history. It has become undesirable to adhere to our traditional tariff policy, because we cannot afford to miss the opportunity to participate in a movement which will lift the non-Communist world out of the doldrums.

These are big words, and they might well be so much hot air if it were not that there is already under way negotiation of the terms of the new trading community. We shall not come directly into these negotiations until Britain, having taken care of the vital interests of the Commonwealth, has been accepted as a member of the Common Market. More or less simultaneously there will come into it also, with certain reservations, Switzerland, Austria, and Scandinavian countries.

WHEN THIS HAS been accomplished, we shall have to be ready to take what Messrs. Herter and Clayton call the giant step. The enlarged Common Market will contain more than 300,000,000 people working and living in what will soon be a free trade area. There can be no doubt that in such a big market European industry will advance spectacularly.

This will confront us with the question of whether we should seal ourselves up in our own market or move to open up access for our exports to the much larger European markets. If we choose to open up the access, we shall not obtain it as a favor or because Europe is grateful to us, or even because Europe depends upon us to save it from the military power of the Soviet Union. We shall be able to open up the European Market to American business only if in return we open up the American market to European business.

Frank Frisch recalls one game with the old Boston Braves in which the great Dizzy Dean had struck out Joe Di Maggio's brother Vince twice. In the ninth inning, Vince came to bat for the third time. After taking two called strikes, he popped a punny foul behind the plate. "Don't catch it!" Dean screamed to the catcher. "Let it drop!"

Manager Frisch stormed out of the dugout, hollering, "What's the big idea?"

"I bet a guy ten bucks I'd fan Di Mag three times tonight. This is my last chance."

And then, while Frisch still fumed, Dizzy burned a third strike past Di Maggio at the plate and collected his ten spot.

W. C. Fields didn't welcome many friends to his California mansion, but one drinking companion stayed on and on. "Anybody," explained Fields, "who hates dogs and kids the way he does can't possibly be all bad."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Even Scientists Sometimes Play At The Guessing Game

No matter how scientifically you say, there's still some guesswork. For example, there's the problem of whether to play the king or the jack to set up one trick.

Here we have the typical case. You need one heart trick to make the game in notrump. Should you play the king or the jack of hearts from dummy?

You cannot see whether West has the ace or the queen. If he has the ace, you must play the king from the dummy; but if West has the queen, you must play dummy's jack.

How do you guess the right card to play at the bridge table, when you cannot see all of the cards?

POSTPONE GUESS: Postpone the guess as long as you can. In this case, win the first spade and run the four clubs, ending in the South hand. You may find something out in the meantime.

If West is a very naive defender, he may throw the eight of hearts and then the deuce of hearts to tell the world at large that he has the ace. If a crafty defender did this, you would disbelieve him. The problem would not be a sheer guess; it would depend on how shrewdly you sized up your opponent.

Even if West tries to tell you nothing, whether true or false, he may still give himself away. West cannot afford to discard a spade, for then you can afford to guess wrong in hearts; you will lose only two hearts and two spades. West may fear to discard a diamond because you have bid the suit. But West may be unhappy also about discarding hearts.

If West has the ace of hearts, he can discard two low hearts without feeling any pain. But if West acts like a soul in torment, play him for the queen of hearts.

Against shrewd opponents you will sometimes guess wrong no matter how clever you are, but your record will be far better than the 50 per cent that you would expect if you were just guessing all the time.

Sacramento's Capitol Avenue Is Changing

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A pleasant surprise will soon be in store for travelers entering the Capitol city via Highway 40 over the tower bridge spanning the Sacramento River.

Capitol Avenue is getting a new look.

The avenue has long been heavily congested and bordered by slums and blight conditions in the nine blocks between the river and the Capitol buildings.

But now it is being widened with a handsome grass lawn island and a double row of trees planted along each side. This new approach offers a striking view of the main Capitol buildings and grounds.

The first five-block parcel is scheduled to be completed by the end of the year. All but the final two blocks will be ready by 1964.

The entrance face-lifting represents only a small segment of a 160-million-dollar, three-stage project that will cleanse Sacramento's historic west end of 75 blocks of filth, derelicts, run-down hotels and crumbling, abandoned frame buildings.

These 200 acres were not always blighted. Once they were the center of gold rush activities and, comprised the entire town. Later they contained one of the biggest hiring halls for farm labor west of Chicago. And before the depression the city's commercial center was located in the west end.

In place of present skid road conditions, there will be built a modern shopping center, banks, hotels, parkways, pedestrian malls, new streets, government buildings, apartment houses, parking lots, a riverfront historical area, a modern Chinese area and a cultural center.

The cleanup campaign began in 1950 when the city council created the Sacramento Redevelopment Agency. Five years later plans for the first of three projects — called the Capitol mall — were approved.

Gross cost to the agency for the entire project will be approximately 60 million dollars. Private construction will account for at least another 100 million dollars.

Some 45 million dollars in buildings are going up during the first stage, nine million dollars of which are nearly complete.

Gross cost to the agency of the Capitol mall project was 13 million dollars. But the agency received six million dollars from land sales and the federal government contributed another four million dollars, leaving the community's share at three million dollars.

Robert E. Roche, assistant to the director of the agency, said a unique financing method was used to raise the three million dollars.

The agency sold a two-million dollar bond issue secured only by the increased tax revenues expected when the new construction is complete. With the cooperation of the city and county, assessed valuations were frozen as of the 1955-56 fiscal year and the increased tax revenue—estimated at 400 to 500 per cent—will go to retiring the bonds.

The additional one million dollars was raised from local non-cash grants-in-aid.

The second part of the overall redevelopment project, the Capitol mall extension, is expected to be completed in 1967. The final stage will take in 50 blocks and cost more than 34 million dollars. It is scheduled for completion about 1970.

Paintings Stolen From Sabella's

Two oil paintings by Marin artists on display in the entrance hall of Sabella's restaurant at 663 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, were stolen last week, Vera Borzy of 27 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, reports. She said her work entitled, "The Dawn," valued at $150, vanished yesterday and an oil called, "Shipyard," valued at $80, by Mai Reese of 437 Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley, disappeared Thursday. Sheriff's deputies said the thefts were reported to its Marin City substation and deputies are on the lookout. Miss Borzy said she has a colored photograph of her painting which she will give the sheriff's office to aid in the search.

Blood Pressure Control Is Near

NEW YORK (UPI)—Medical science now has progressed to where it can reduce high blood pressure in most persons to normal or near normal and keep it there. This is good because high blood pressure is one of the most important underlying causes of degenerative artery-heart disease which is among the top killers of people.

This is the view of Dr. Milton Mendlowitz, a recognized expert on this common affliction. He is both the editor and one of 19 scientific contributors to a new, authoritative book simply titled "Hypertension." All the authors are staff members of New York's Mount Sinai Hospital.

Mendlowitz said medical progress against this enemy of people was so rapid it was likely that much of the book's content would no longer apply "within a few years." He attributed science's present ability to control most cases of primary or "essential" hypertension to the "complex array of drugs" of relatively recent development which are still being improved.

He estimated that 80 per cent of all cases of high blood pressure were of the primary type. That will slow scientific progress until the cause or causes of the primary type are known. Secondary hypertension has a number of known causes and these can usually be eliminated by surgery or by medical treatment of kidney or adrenal gland malfunctioning.

Primary ("essential") hypertension is by far the worst offender, attacking in many destructive ways which the authors analyzed in detail. When medical science knows what causes it, the treatment can be aimed at specific targets. Mendlowitz's view was optimistic. He said these causes were "becoming clearer."

He and his colleagues, Dr. Stanley E. Gitlow and Nostrat Naftchi, have developed experimental backing for a theory that an inborn error in body chemistry is the cause. This would explain why the arteries of persons with primary hypertension are more reactive to substances which narrow them than those of persons with normal blood pressure.

These scientists believe that the error is in the handling of norepinephrine, a substance elaborated at the nerve ends which constricts arteries. Primary hypertension probably results from too high a concentration of norepinephrine in body tissues, in their opinion. The concentration would become too high if norepine-phrine was produced in overabundance or if it was not chemically inactivated rapidly enough. They believe the cause could either be in defects in the enzymes which "bind" or inactivate norepinephrine or in the "chemical complex" which actually contracts arteries.

However, that may be, there has been marked progress in treatment. Mendlowitz recalled that "not so long ago" the doctor concentrated on the final event, congestive heart failure, "about which we can do so little." Now he can treat the things which lead up to that final event. Of these high blood pressure is outstanding.

Federal Funds Are Sought By Tam District

Applications for federal funds to help finance two projects, totaling more than $47,000, have been submitted by the Tamalpais Union High School District.

The projects are science equipment for the new building to be constructed at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley and a language laboratory at Redwood High in Larkspur.

Application was made under provisions of the National Defense Education Act. Funds are allotted on a matching payment basis.

The science equipment project will cost $36,684, half of which will be paid by the federal government if the application is approved.

The Redwood language laboratory project is for $10,381.48, also to be split equally between the federal government and Tam District. Redwood now has partial language laboratory facilities.

California Is Making Comeback In Hides

LONG BEACH (AP)—Exporting hides, California's earliest form of commerce, is making a big comeback.

Reason: More people are wearing shoes.

Last year Los Angeles and Long Beach Harbors shipped nearly 40,000 tons of cured hides to all parts of the world. Five years ago, only a fraction of that amount left the country.

Harold E. Massey, an official of Bissinger Co., a pioneer West Coast hide exporter, said that increased shoe-wearing on a large scale in Japan and Mexico has sparked the boom in hide exporting.

But he also attributed the upsurge to American appetites. Americans are eating more beef than ever before in history, Massey said, therefore more hides are available.

Los Angeles Harbor was immortalized as a hide center by author Richard Henry Dana.

who wrote that 2,000 hides were taken aboard the sailing ship "Pilgrim" in San Pedro. Dana's book: "Two Years Before the Mast."

Today, a freighter can carry between 40,000 and 80,000 hides.

Massey said the hides are used for many other things besides shoes. He mentioned particularly industrial and craft leather uses.

Utilization of plastic for clothes and shoes in the United States has decreased the domestic call for hides, Massey said.

Sometimes the hides make full-circle trips. Spain, a large importer of hides, last year sold 200,000 Texas-style boots in the United States.

COL. WILLIAM R. RAINFORD
Retired last month

34 YEARS

Larkspur
Colonel
Retires

Col. William R. Rainford of 45 Millard Road, Larkspur, has retired after 34 years of service in the Army.

Colonel Rainford, who was assistant Chief of Staff, Sixth Army, at the Presidio, was presented the army commendation medal by Lt. Gen. John L. Ryan in recognition of meritorious service on his most recent assignment.

All the years of Col. Rainford's army service has been with the intelligence division of the army. In 1947 he was on the staff of the director of intelligence of Headquarters, European Command, in Germany. He was also deputy commander of the Army Intelligence Center, Fort Holabird, Maryland, commander of the 441st CI Group, Army Forces, in the Far East, and with the Army Personnel Office in Washington, D.C.

Col. Rainford came to the Presidio of San Francisco in 1948 when he was named commanding officer of the 115th CIC Group. He was named intelligence officer for the Sixth Army on April 3, 1959.

In addition to the Army commendation medal, Rainford wears the bronze star with two oak leaf clusters and the French Croix re Guerre with palm.

He and his wife, Phyllis, have two children, Janice Rainford, who lives with her parents and Sgt. William R. Rainford Jr. of the 187th Infantry at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Junior Museum
Sponsoring Film
At 3 Theaters

A family movie, "The Boy and the Laughing Dog," will be shown simultaneously at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael, Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo and Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 24 to benefit the Junior Museum of Marin, Mrs. Richard Bettini of San Rafael, chairman of the event, announced today.

The movie about a young Mississippi boy's experiences with a rare Basenji dog that doesn't bark but laughs and cries will be sponsored by the San Rafael, Ross and Mill Valley guilds of the museum.

Tickets are being sold at a number of stores throughout Marin.

Catholic Grad
Debate Winner

David M. Wilson, a 1959 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, tied for first place with his partner in the recent national Kentucky Tournament of Debate, it was learned here yesterday.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Wilson of Fairfax, David is a School of Foreign Service junior at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

He was vice president and treasurer of the Philodemic Debate Society at Georgetown, serving this year as chairman of the High School Tournament sponsored annually by the honor oratorical group.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

Hardwood Design In San Anselmo
Is Fast Growing Little Business

Fast growing little business is Hardwood Design, 116 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, at that location about one month.

It's an enterprise of Biagi Quattrocchi and Joseph Graml who started designing and building custom office furniture in the back of a garage on Shoreline Highway, Mill Valley, a little over a year ago.

Both are craftsmen, but Quattrocchi who's been doing the outside contact work thought for awhile they weren't going to make the grade.

"A few months ago I started calling on the architects and designers and recently this legwork has paid off," he says. "Suddenly the orders are coming in as fast as we can handle them."

This new work, by the way, has grown into cabinet work and built-in units of all kinds (except kitchen cabinets for homes and apartments. The business is 90 per cent wholesale—much of it from outside of Marin County.

"We're still doing custom-made 'architectural modular office furniture,' but I think we're going to need a larger crew to handle all of it," Quattrocchi says.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY of Luana's women's wear store in San Rafael is being "celebrated" this week by owner Edwin Cechittini. It was just a year ago this month, too, that the store was moved to its present location, 915 Fourth Street from 1220 Fourth. The Corte Madera store has been open about three years.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT will probably get into Marin

The earth's magnetic field seems to be weakening and scientists do not know why.

BIKE LIGHTS FOR I-J TIKES

More than 600 Independent-Journal newspaperboys have been offered cut rates on lights for their bicycles as a safety measure. The I-J will absorb more than half the price of a specially designed light in an offer similar to one of last year when

Final Talks Slated On Civil Defense

The fifth and final home preparedness workshop meetings in San Geronimo and Corte Madera will be held tomorrow and Thursdays nights, the county civil defense office announced today.

At Lagunitas School in San Geronimo at 8 p.m. tomorrow Paul L. Jones, alerting officer from Hamilton Field Air Base, and M. B. Scott, sanitarian for the county health department, will speak.

The film, "Norad," dealing with disaster and public health, will be shown, said Mrs. Jean H. Smith, deputy to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, county assistant CD director.

Pamphlets on emergency sanitation at home and the family food stockpile for survival will be given out. Clifford L. Frye, Lagunitas School principal, will give home preparedness workshop completion cards, to those who have attended all the meetings.

The same program will be given at 8 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church at 5461 Paradise Drive in Corte Madera except that the Rev. Gerald S. Moyer will speak in the place of Jones.

'Playboy' Extended

"Playboy of the Western World" by J. M. Synge has been extended for one more week end at the Sausalito Little Theater, to play through Nov. 18. It will be presented Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

It's Homecoming Week At College Of Marin

This week is homecoming week for College of Marin, with the Tar football squad playing host to Shasta College on Friday.

One of five young beauties will be crowned homecoming queen Wednesday to reign over the activities. Those competing for the crown are:

Sherry Black a freshman nominated by the Block M. Society; Sharon Kaye, a freshman nominated by the Ski Club; Pat Handlin, a freshman nominated by the Business Club; Sally Wilder, a sophomore nominated by the Art Club, and Kathy Smith, a freshman nominated by the football team.

The week's activities started today with the queen candidates presented to the student body on the campus lawn at noon. Following was a volleyball game between the faculty and students. Student voting for the queen candidates was scheduled from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today and tomorrow.

A tug-of-war between freshmen and sophomores is scheduled at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Wednesday at 11 a.m. a "Pep Rally" will be held in Olney Hall, featuring coronation of the queen, Dr. Stephen E. Eppler, college president, will crown the queen. Rally commissioner is Pat Johnson, with the Associated Women Students in charge of arrangements.

A parade will be held Thursday evening, followed by a bonfire and speeches by football coach Dick Read and members of the football team. The parade will start at 6:30 p.m. from the campus cafeteria. It will wind through San Anselmo and San Rafael and return to the baseball field of the Kentfield campus. A bonfire will be touched off at approximately 7:30 p.m., with music provided by the college band.

Campus organizations will decorate the cars in the parade with a $10 prize going to the best decorated car. Judges for the car contest will be the Art Club. After the bonfire the Circle K will sponsor a "Record Hop" dance.

The Circle K will feature a "sack race" at noon on Friday on the campus. At 8 p.m. Friday will be the game against Shasta College. The homecoming queen and her princesses will be introduced to the fans at the game.

After the game there will be a dance in the college gymnasium.

Belvedere Council Meeting Tonight

The Belvedere City Council has on its agenda tonight the demand by Mrs. Richard E. Doyle that it take back its censure and apologize to her for its criticism at a Sept. 11 meeting.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Belvedere Community Hall.

Also on the agenda is a report from the recreation commission and a discussion of the city's agreement with the Tiburon recreation commission and a discussion of the city's agreement with the Tiburon Sanitary District on the time schedule for sewer hookup. City Manager Britton Rey said.

Burgermeister Brewing Sold

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—President Robert A. Uihlein Jr., of the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co., has announced purchase of the Burgermeister Brewing Corp., for approximately 13 million dollars cash.

Uihlein said the Schlitz firm of Milwaukee, Wis., probably would operate the San Francisco firm as a wholly-owned subsidiary.

"Burgermeister," Uihlein said "will retain complete autonomy in its operation on the West Coast. No management or personnel changes are anticipated."

Uihlein said the purchase was to strengthen the Schlitz production and marketing position on the coast. Burgermeister is marketed almost entirely in California.

Uncle Sam, a 4-year-old bay trotter, is owned by K. D. Owen, of Houston, Texas.

Policemen's Ball Planned In Hub City

The 14th annual San Anselmo Policemen's Ball will be held at Star Hall Saturday at 9 p.m., with dancing continuing to 1 a.m. Sunday, chairman Sam N. Serio announced today.

Jack Barnes and his orchestra will provide music. Proceeds will go to the widows, orphans and welfare fund of the police department.

Chief Raymond R. Buchignani is chairman of tickets. Co-chairman is Sgt. James Orr. Assistant Chief Serio heads the program committee, which includes Sgt. Ray Velati and Officer Louis McAllister.

Officer George Alberigi heads the decoration committee composed of Sgt. John Orr and Officers Donald Nelson, Andy Grimes and Leonard Musselle.

Warning Given On Parking Citations

Citations will be given Marin County motorists who practice "unsafe and illegal parking" on secondary roads, California Highway Patrol Capt. T. F. Parnow warned today.

"Diagonal parking where not authorized and parking on the wrong side of the roadway are the most commonly noted offenses," Parnow said. Such parking is on the increase, making a crackdown necessary, he said.

Lecture On Civil Defense Slated For San Rafael

Edward L. Lewis, public information director of the California Disaster Office, will talk on civil defense at the E Street School in San Rafael at 10 a.m. Nov. 22, Edward R. Credell, county assistant school superintendent, announced today.

He said some of the matters Lewis will cover are:

1—State appropriations for matching community funds.

Rep. Miller To Be Honored At Dinner

Congressman Clem Miller—(D—Corte Madera) will be guest of honor at a reception at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera on Nov. 12 from 4 to 6 p.m.

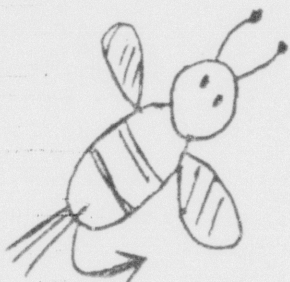

Sponsoring the reception are the Ross Valley Democratic Club, the Greater San Rafael Democratic Club and the Marin Democratic Assembly.

2—State funds to underwrite cost of disaster equipment.

3—State of California's three-phase program, which begins this month and is expected to be concluded by December, 1962.

4—Self-help advice for installation and operation of warning systems and improved communications.

5—Information available from other counties that have conducted CD studies.
